Every Shot Will Help 500 Fund Help the Needy

With every squeeze of the trigger at the Victoria Gun Club annual benefit shoot next month, marksmen will be helping the 500 most needy families who benefit from The Daily Colonist Christmas Fund.

The club is aiming at a target of $500 for the fund.

Marksmen will be shooting for turkeys and hams during the event and each crack of the shotgun will help boost the amount for the needy.

In addition there is always the sporting chance the marksmen will provide meat for their own table at Christmas.

The shoot will be held at the gun club's grounds at Albert Head Dec. 17 and 18.

You don't have to be a Wyatt Earp or Matt Dillon to bring home a prize! Special classes for novices are provided. Nonmarksmen who consider themselves lucky to hit the side of a barn will be placed with others in the same bracket.

Cash donations for the fund are continuing to come in at a steady rate.

Donors are asked to specify whether they want their names published with their donations.

Bouncing Baby Boy Born to Kennedy

* * * * * *

Jacqueline Kennedy and the President-Elect
... second child for first family

Mother Child Fine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy's wife gave birth early today to a healthy and "beautiful" six-pound, two-ounce boy after a dramatic ambulance dash to Georgetown University Hospital.

Delivery was by caesarean section. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the baby were described as doing fine.

NOT EXPECTED

The baby had not been expected for another three weeks.

Sen. Kennedy was notified by radio of the birth of his first son and second child 15 minutes after he took off from Palm Beach, Fla., to fly to his wife's side.

SENATOR HAPPY

His press secretary said "the senator was happy" about the birth but would make no personal statement until he had a chance to see his wife and child because he was concerned about them.

The baby was born at 12.22 a.m. EST. Mrs. Kennedy arrived at the hospital at 10.55 p.m., and was immediately taken to an operating suite.

Mrs. Gladys Uhl, Jacqueline Kennedy's press secretary, said she had seen the new baby and "he looks beautiful."

WIGGLING A BIT

She said the baby was "wiggling a little bit," and it seemed to have a "little dark hair."

The Kennedys had said in advance they planned to name the child John F. Kennedy Jr. if it were a boy.

A caesarean delivery had been planned for the child. This was the same method of delivering a baby by surgery used for the birth of the Kennedy's first child, Caroline.

WITH HER

With her at the hospital was Dr. John Walsh, who is attached to the staff of the hospital and is one of Washington's leading obstetricians.

As soon as Mrs. Kennedy entered the hospital, Dr. Walsh started delivery preparations.

Mrs. Kennedy was wheeled in through the hospital's emergency room. An intern said, "she was beautiful, even in the throes of labor." A nurse said "she looked lovely."

COMMONS UNITES TO PUSH HOUSING

New Jobs Target Of Bill

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons last night unanimously approved in principle the federal government's wide-ranging housing legislation after Public Works Minister David J. Walker predicted that every Canadian family would live in a new house after 22 years of Conservative rule.

The bill aims at reducing unemployment through a big dose of government assistance to stimulate housing construction. It also provides for federal assistance to municipalities in the construction of sewage-disposal plants and loans to universities for student residences.

OFTEN ROWDY

Walker wound up an often rowdy debate on second reading of the housing bill with the claim that history would show "it was the Tory government that gave modern housing to the Canadian people."

The government insisted on a recorded vote on the second reading stage which resulted in a unanimous 155-to-0 roll call.

BOTH SIDES

The debate featured charges and counter-charges of filibustering from both sides of the House, and a call on the government to resign from a Liberal member.

Walker, who called the legislation "one of the greatest pieces of legislation ever introduced in the House of Commons," predicted that "if we're in power for 22 years, every Canadian family will live in a new house."

KILL INCENTIVE

He rejected opposition requests for a reduction in the interest rate on federally-approved housing loans and said such action would kill incentive of lenders. He promised, however, that action to reduce the interest rate would be taken when appropriate.

Paul Hellyer (L—Trinity) said the government had "dramatically exaggerated" the possible effect of the legislation which he described as "a deathbed repentance" of the Conservative government.

J. R. Garland (L—Nipissing), the party's housing critic, scored the plan as "too little, too late" to help substantially in battling winter unemployment.

Who could resist a plea from Shelley Blackburn, 4, for an autograph? Certainly not Edmonton Eskimo football team players Toby Deese, Bill Smith and Mike Volcan, who sat down for a coffee after a Brentwood fishing trip. Boats were supplied by Shelley's dad, Bud Blackburn, of Anglers Rentals.

China 'No. 1 Threat' But Can't Be Ignored

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday named Red China as the No. 1 threat to world peace and said a "realistic review" of relations with that country was mandatory.

The prime minister also indicated a decision on nuclear weapons for Canadian forces is months, if not years, away. If one had to be made, "we shall not consider nuclear weapons until we have equality in control, a joint control over them."

Canada in the past has steadfastly opposed the seating of Red China in the United Nations. But yesterday Mr. Diefenbaker said:

"So vast and numberless a people cannot be ignored. The world is too interlocked with its common dangers to exclude almost one-quarter of the human race from the areas of major political settlement."

Mr. Diefenbaker, in a general review of Canada's foreign policy, said the declarations of Red China's leaders cast a "frightening shadow of fear" over mankind.

"Their views are frightening and the necessity of realistic review of the situation becomes necessary and mandatory," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker also urged an early heads-of-state meeting of the 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He stressed that arrangements must be made to ensure that the economies of some members would not be weakened by actions of other members.

Legislators of NATO Favor Nuclear Force

PARIS (Reuters)—Legislators from member nations of the Atlantic pact voiced support Thursday for the proposal to arm NATO countries with nuclear weapons.

Some dissent went on record but most speakers at the NATO conference backed the plan as put to them by U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe.

Tire Yourself Out Heart Expert Says

LONDON (Reuters) — Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, Thursday advised a life-long program of vigorous exercise as a preventive measure against heart disease.

He told 700 persons attending a one-day conference here that regular exercise must start before middle age "because it is in the 40s and 50s that so many heart attacks of the type of coronary thrombosis occur.

"I am quite certain that the best antidote for nervous strain, tension and insomnia, is physical fatigue," Dr. White said.

'Put Your Feet Up'

LONDON (Reuters) — Middle-aged persons were advised Thursday that after lunch and dinner to "put your feet up, shut your eyes and smile."

The advice came from a leading British surgeon, who said he did not want reporters to use his name, speaking at a one-day conference on the health of executives.

"Once you reach middle age there is much to be said for taking 40 winks" after meals, and half-days off from work for a hobby such as golf.

China's Atom Claim Worries Khrushchev

LONDON (AP) — Allied diplomats reported Thursday night that Communist China claims it can become a nuclear power soon and even Premier Khrushchev is worried.

They said the boast was made by President Liu Shao-chi of Red China at the Communist summit conference in Moscow.

This claim, coupled with Peking's public demands for a tougher policy by Communists everywhere, has alarmed Khrushchev and other Communist leaders, the diplomats said.

Allied sources believe Khrushchev fears a China so armed might shake off Soviet restraint and embark on ventures that would imperil world peace.

'Battle of Century' Seen To Depose Liberal Chief

OTTAWA (UPI) — Public Works Minister David J. Walker last night said the Liberal party was set for "a tremendous battle of the century" in attempts to depose Lester Pearson from party leadership.

Walker was commenting in the House of Commons on a testimonial dinner in Windsor, Ont., last night honoring prominent Liberal and former cabinet minister Paul Martin for his 25 years in public life.

"Tonight in the city of Windsor," said Walker, "the leadership of the Liberal party is at stake.

"There is a tremendous battle of the century now pending in the Liberal party by those who want to replace the leader of the opposition," he added.

He cited Martin, former Liberal works minister Robert Winters, and former transport minister Lionel Chevrier as prospects to succeed Pearson.

Walker jeered at Chevrier and said, "I think he can arrange a testimonial dinner for himself."

Jobless Moral Defeat

TORONTO (UPI)—Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, warned last night that a failure to defeat unemployment will be an admission to newly-emerging nations that the Communist system is more workable than the democratic one.

Indians to Sue B.C. for $100,000

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Kitwanga band of the Skeena River Indian agency plans to sue the provincial government for $100,000 and prosecute Highways Minister Gaglardi for trespassing.

Delegates to the 28th annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia were told that the highways department has no right to build four miles of highway through the eastern section of the Kitwanga reserve.

The band seeks $100,000 in damages and the maximum penalty of a $50-fine and 30 days in jail for Mr. Gaglardi. Indian Commissioner Frank E. Anfield told the meeting that the Indian affairs branch had not given permission for the work but had been offered first $482 in compensation and later $6,000.

Both offers were rejected by the Kitwanga people.

Chief Richard Morgan of the Kitwangas told the convention that Deputy Highways Minister Miard had arranged to meet the band council Dec. 1 for further discussion of the problem.

The convention voted to back the Kitwangas in its fight.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

SORRY. I'm going to quit talking about matters of life and death, and get back to important things.

Several friends have told me that I was wrong to write six columns in a row about the control of armaments. I knew they would say that.

"I haven't time to bother with that stuff," said one friend. "I leave that to the people I help elect to Parliament. That's what they're for. My job keeps me hopping. I do some community work. That takes a couple of hours in an evening. Then I just want to relax."

* * *

"You're too busy to bother about life or death?" I asked.

"That will go on, whatever I do," he said. "If it's going to happen, it's going to happen. That's the way most people feel. Let the think-boys do the thinking. That's why we elect them to the government."

"How are you going to find out who is the best man to elect?" I asked. He shrugged his shoulders.

"We have a good man now, John D.," he said.

"If so," I suggested, "you might have been just lucky."

"I'll bet you, people aren't interested in think stuff," he said. "Most people would agree with me, if you asked for their honest opinions."

* * *

"I believe you're right," I said. "That's why our society is in danger of being snuffed out—because people are too lazy or too busy to inform themselves. The big bang might well come in our time."

"In your time, not in mine," he said. "I'm a lot older than you. One day, Whoosh!"

"Meanwhile, enjoy yourself, do the job, and do your community work, eh?"

"Yes," he said.

"What do you think we should have in the papers, mostly?" I asked. "Alderman Furp's views on cluster lights? What Councillor Wagonpot thinks about the mud at the bottom of the Gorge?"

"Sure, those things," he said.

"Well, I think there's room for that and other stuff as well," I argued.

* * *

But I had not intended to get into a dispute about those pieces on arms control. They were only a layman's brief safari into a dark jungle of facts and opinions.

Some people told me they thought it was a good idea to talk about such matters. Most thought it was too ponderous a subject for this space. Maybe so.

To me, those reactions were more interesting than the subject itself—which, admittedly, I could have handled in a livelier fashion if I had spent a month on the job, commuting between Moscow and Cape Canaveral, searching for anecdotes, tightening and coloring the copy.

* * *

No matter how much better a job I had made of it, however, a great many of my friends wouldn't have read it. They would still have turned the page as soon as they realized what it was about.

Ottawa Urged to Back BBC-Type Publication

REGINA (CP) — The socialist government of Saskatchewan spoke up Thursday against any restrictions on the entry to Canada of American publications and suggested ways that government spending could improve Canadian publications.

Education Minister A. E. Blakeney submitted a brief which included a proposal for a publication similar to The Listener, published by the British Broadcasting Corporation, which would record talks given on radio and television.

As an example of suitable material, Mr. Blakeney cited a recent series of discussions on Canadian defence policy carried by the CBC. He said much of the constructive thinking on Canadian topics is being done by people who speak on radio and television.

WOULD BE FAIR

Mr. O'Leary remarked that the CBC now is costing Canadians about $60,000,000 a year. If it put out a magazine and took advertising it would be competing with existing publications.

Mr. O'Leary said he feels radio is "vastly superior" to television, but the defence series in question was not documented and in some cases tended to be misleading.

HIGHER LEVEL

However, Mr. Blakeney stuck to his contention that the level of the contents of such a magazine as he suggested would be higher than that of some existing publications.

Mr. O'Leary commented that in the case of the other publications, "you're not being taxed and misled at the same time."

Gallstones are Crystals Or Solidified Chunks

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

"Dear Dr. Molner: What does it mean when you are told after X-rays that you have a non-functioning gall bladder? X-rays failed to visualize the gall bladder. The pain occurs only occasionally now.

"Will another attack occur? Could the gall bladder burst as could happen with an appendix? Is it dangerous to ignore it as long as the pain does not return? Or is removal absolutely necessary?—H.H."

* * *

A very sensible group of questions! Since a great many of us have some experience, directly or through friends and relatives, with bladder trouble, I'm going to devote today's space and tomorrow's to answering this letter.

Let's start with the basics. The gall bladder is a reservoir, a supply tank. The liver produces bile, a very necessary digestive juice, useful particularly in digesting fats.

STORAGE SAC

The gall bladder is merely a sac in which we store it for discharge into the digestive tract when we eat things that require bile in digestion.

The most frequent cause of gall bladder distress is gallstones. If we are unlucky enough to collect some stones, which are crystals or chunks of solidified material, they may irritate the gall bladder. Or a small stone may work itself into the duct or tube leading to the intestine, and become stuck there. This is a painful occurrence. We have no way of dissolving gallstones.

DYSPEPSIA

At first, gall bladder trouble can produce symptoms of dyspepsia (upset stomach), or the signs that accompany ulcers or other digestive tract ailments. Therefore your doctor, when you have complaints of that general type, wonders about the gall bladder almost as an automatic reflex. It's one of the things that could be the matter. As a general thing, gall bladder pains will be in the upper right part of the abdomen, at the margin of the ribs.

BEST MEANS

If the attack warrants it, he'll order X-rays, because the X-ray is by all odds the most exact and useful means of pinning down the trouble.

But keep this in mind: A gall bladder X-ray is quite different from an X-ray of the stomach, bowel, etc. The rays may be aimed at approximately the same area, but the preparation is different — the steps taken to make one or another organ clearly visible in the finished X-ray plate.

We'll go on to some other phases of this subject tomorrow.

Tots Left with Note: 'Be Kind to Them'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two dark-haired children, abandoned by their mother in a department store on the eve of U.S. Thanksgiving, had turkey and trimmings yesterday in the Children's Shelter.

Michael, who said he was 5, and Maria, 4, were found wandering in the toy department of Gimbel's department store Wednesday by a store security officer.

"My name is Michael, I'm 5," the brown-eyed boy said. "I'm taking care of my sister Maria and she is 4. We're looking for Yogi Bear. Mommy said we could." The children did not know their last names and when no one came to claim them by 6.30 p.m. they were taken to a police station.

UNSIGNED NOTE

In Michael's jacket police found this unsigned note:

"These are my children, Michael and Maria. They are Catholic. They have had their shots and vaccinations. I love them dearly, but I have no money, no food and no place to go. Please be kind to them. I hope they will be happy. I hope I can come and claim them some day soon. Things are very black for me. Thank you for your help."

DRUMSTICKS, COOKIES

Policemen chipped in and bought the children turkey drumsticks, sandwiches, milk and cookies. Later they were transferred to the Children's Shelter.

"No one has called about them," a shelter spokesman said, "They seem happy."

He said Michael and Maria had asked only one question: "Where's mommy?"

Driver Fined

He Exceeded Beer Limit

A driver's estimate of how much he could drink without his driving being affected didn't aid his case yesterday when he appeared in city police court on an impaired driving charge.

Frederick Haun, 2506 Prior, told the court he could drink 10 or 12 bottles of beer over three or four hours without his ability to drive being affected.

Magistrate William Ostler called the estimate absurd, and said it reflected on the reliability of his evidence.

Haun was found guilty and fined $250.

Immigration Ads Connection Denied

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration Minister Fairclough Thursday denied any connection between the work of departmental staff in Britain and travel service advertisements listing job vacancies said to exist in Canada.

She was replying in the Commons to Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena) who raised the matter of an advertisement by Strothers Travel Service Ltd. in the Wallasey News in England.

ANY CONNECTION?

He said an advertisement indicated a Canadian immigration officer would be at the Strothers office and that certain types of jobs were available in Canada. Was there any connection between the immigration department and the advertisement, "having in mind the unemployment situation in this country?"

Attendance of immigration officers at "these various points" is a matter of long-established practice, Mrs. Fairclough said. But there was no connection whatever between their presence and the advertisement.

KNEW FACTS

The officers did, however, have "possession of the full particulars of the employment situation in Canada and advise prospective immigrants accordingly."

Power in Emergency

VICTORIA'S recent partial blackout of four hours' duration has served a useful purpose in a backhanded way. It has demonstrated without harmful consequences in this instance the vulnerability of institutions such as the hospitals to any prolonged interruption of electric power supply.

Most people, especially those with relatives in hospital, were astounded and perturbed to learn that for four hours the doctors and nurses had to perform their duties with no better illumination than that of candles and flashlights. In wards and private and semi-private rooms total or almost total darkness prevailed during that time.

Apart from all else, including the extreme difficulty of giving treatments under such conditions, the psychological effect on patients in delicate mental state due to hospital confinement or nature of illness could have been serious.

As a result of this experience an emergency power plant to cost about $30,000 will be installed in Royal Jubilee Hospital to supply electricity for essential purposes. At St. Joseph's Hospital consideration is being given to the installation of a similar plant to supply one operating room and keep corridor lights burning.

The public will be whole-heartedly behind these expenditures, now that the danger of the hospitals being left without power has been so forcibly demonstrated.

So long an interruption of power might not occur again, but the point is that with a system of overhead distribution lines it could occur at any time, due to storm or accident. Moreover the cutting of main lines could shut off power for a much longer period. The possibility is not so remote that essential services can afford to ignore it.

The accident which caused the trouble also illustrated the danger existing where high-tension lines are strung on poles at intersections, right on the curb edge. It is remarkable that no one was electrocuted by the maze of 12,000-volt wires brought down by the collision of a light van with the pole at Bay Street. This incident calls for official inspection to see if there are other high-tension poles dangerously placed at intersections which should be moved back from the curbing.

Meanwhile immediate action should be taken to place the hospitals on separate circuits to minimize the risk of the power supply of both being knocked out simultaneously.

Lack of Ardor

WHEN there is no mayoralty contest the civic elections lose much of their color. This should not necessarily be so, since in its own context a seat on the council board is equally important to the civic weal. But it seems to be the pattern. A large turnout at the polls, for instance, is infrequent when the chief magistracy is not at stake.

At the moment there is a lack of ardor in the bidding for the aldermanic posts themselves, although possibly this may be righted shortly and thus enliven the picture. The civic elections are only two weeks away, yet the prospective contestants are comparatively few and far between. Four aldermen are due to end their terms and only two have signified intention of seeking a renewal of their mandate. One has definitely announced his retirement from the scene and the other is doubtful. All four seats are of course up for the filling but this means that one or two new faces may be seen next year on the council.

Since sitting aldermen usually have the advantage in a civic election the chances are thus better this year for aspirants seeking a first toehold in municipal government. There will be at least one or two "vacancies," as it were. If the competition were keen, therefore—for all four seats in fact—this would reflect creditably on local enthusiasm for municipal affairs.

Candidates will not be lacking, exactly. One outside nomination has been filed and four others are said to be in the offing. If double this number were in view it would be more heartening. And with election day so close at hand it is obvious that there will be no campaign of any worthwhile proportion.

One could wish that more men—or—women—were attracted to this level of governance. Service on the city council involves no little time and devotion and admittedly this may be a deterrent. But the community embraces many vigorous and competent figures in professional, business, labor and other fields, and it is a pity that the desire to join the aldermanic board is not greater.

This is a fine place in which to live and work and there is a challenge to all capable and willing persons to take a leading part in its development and future.

Easier In Than Out

IT is easier to get into the British House of Lords than to get out of it. In Canada a senator could resign his place in the Red Chamber—a somewhat comparable upper house—and return to the hurly-burly of the Commons. Not so across the Atlantic. Once a lord always a lord.

For the second time a British peer will attempt to renounce his inheritance. Once before his father, the late Lord Stansgate, brought a petition to permit his son to eschew the title and let it pass in course to a grandson. This was denied. Now the son himself, a Labor MP for 10 years, has succeeded to the family honors and automatically ceases to be a member of the House of Commons.

It is not that the Lords is a chamber of no repute or worth. The latter comprises some of the best minds in the United Kingdom and its debates are on a level probably unequalled anywhere. It is full of shrewd and cultured men whose elevation came as a result of business, professional and political attainments of a high order.

The Lords is a lesser force in the life and government of the nation, however. It is in the Commons that the real power rests and it is there that ambitious political figures seek to make their mark. Nowadays no prime minister is ever a member of the House of Lords, and custom has caused few of the really important portfolios to be held by incumbents of that chamber. Hence Mr. Anthony Wedgewood Benn's desire to stay in the House of Commons.

One might think that if a lord does not want to be a lord he should not have such title imposed on him, but the establishment is hard to brook and patently the ermine once draped upon the shoulder is difficult to shake off. The new Lord Stansgate will make his bid for freedom via a petition presented on his behalf by another member of Parliament. One is inclined to hope that he succeeds.

Interpreting the News

A Sinister Ring

By ED SIMON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

ROME has become a pleasanter port of call for British prime ministers since Neville Chamberlain went there in 1939 to be harangued by Benito Mussolini.

Invective has not disappeared from the diplomatic arsenal of the 1960s and Prime Minister Macmillan has been subjected to his share. But other tables are pounded by other statesmen today.

Today, Italy stands as Britain's partner in the Western alliance. Politically, there are no problems of significance to divide them. Economically, Rome has a more sinister ring in British ears.

It was there that Italy and five other continental powers signed the agreement that produced the European Common Market, the great trading bloc that threatens to leave Britain isolated from her traditional markets.

In his television talk to the Italian people, Macmillan admitted that economic division between the six Common Market powers and the seven-nation European Free Trade Area which Britain leads could breed political difficulties.

But it was clear from the communique that followed Macmillan's talks with Premier Amintore Fanfani that both countries are equally anxious to heal the breach and that unofficial talks are to be launched between them.

The forthcoming talks, coupled with current discussions between British and West German trade experts, are viewed by Britain as a useful preliminary for any agreement that may evolve.

The communique stressed the desirability of resuming East-West disarmament negotiations and indicated that the two prime ministers see eye to eye in supporting the United Nations in the Congo and elsewhere.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

"MONEY," said Sherwood Anderson, "the need of money has always been hurtful to me and to all men and women I have known."

Alas, 'tis true. Man may not always value this commodity for itself but of its potency he is never unaware.

What is it Byron said? "Ready money is Aladdin's lamp."

That is what West Germany is thinking at the moment. It wants to hang on to its own lamp, fully trimmed. America, as you know, is feeling the financial pinch these days—perhaps no wonder in view of its vast outside commitments—and it is trying to persuade Germany that the latter should help pay for the U.S. troops on German soil.

The answer has been none too cordial. Nobody, you see, likes to part with money if he can avoid it, especially if the service to date has been free.

And to date the U.S. taxpayer has subsidized his own forces stationed overseas.

★ ★ ★

At first glance perhaps one might assume that Germany should be glad to offset the cost of the troops defending it. Canada could put in a claim too if this were to become the rote; but then it might be asked to pay for U.S. servicemen in this country.

That would put the shoe on a less comfortable foot.

Germany of course knows that U.S. troops, or any other allied troops, are not in Europe just out of the goodness of their hearts. In Germany they are there to protect that country, sure enough, but as a corollary to the larger task of keeping a potential enemy as far away from their home doors as possible.

Europe is the West's front line, and the Germans are shrewd enough to appreciate this. Perhaps indeed the U.S. will be lucky if the Bonn government doesn't suddenly ask it to pay something for the ground its troops are occupying.

And a fine ham-and-haddie that would set in motion, with all the NATO nations billing and cross-billing each other for amenities provided; albeit I daresay there's some of that going on anyway.

This is the paradox of military coalitions at all times. It's not a case of all for one and one for all. The only equal commodity is the body in uniform, and not then if the ratio of strength is not proportionate.

I can remember a front line four miles long with three sets of soldiers' pay scales. They were all engaged on the same job, shooting at a common enemy, but the chaps on the right had a basic daily wage of twopence-halfpenny, the chaps in the centre a shilling, and the chaps on the left six shillings.

The same sort of discrepancy will exist at the moment in the Congo, as of course it does in Europe too. One understands this nationally, but in the coalition abstract it appears odd.

Even more odd, surely, was the demand made by France on Britain after the first war for — hold your breath — rental payments for the trenches dug on French soil. I have always understood at least that such a bill was presented.

I hope it was never paid.

A good thing that South Korea doesn't post an account to the UN for payment for the use a few years ago of its hills and valleys. The UN's Aladdin's lamp is burning lower than America's.

Germany's rebuttal to the U.S. is that all the NATO nations should pay for the troops on their soil, which to some would sound like adding insult to injury. And an acrimonious round-robin this would create.

What a pother Soviet Russia puts us all in these days.

United Nations Problems

Inadequacies of the Charter

By W. N. EWER, from London

MR. MACMILLAN in his speech at the new Lord Mayor of London's Guildhall banquet (a traditional occasion for speeches by British prime ministers) voiced his concern for the future of the United Nations.

The organization is now over 15 years old; and these have been 15 years of rapid change. The world of 1960 is very different from anything that was foreseen when the charter was signed in San Francisco in 1945.

Mr. Macmillan noted two changes. First there has been the emergence to sovereign statehood—and membership of the United Nations—of a large number of Asian and African countries which in 1945 had still to achieve independence. That is an entirely welcome and healthy development. But it would be idle to pretend that it does not raise new problems. The structure of 1945—for example the composition of the Security Council and other organs—is manifestly unsatisfactory. The case for expanding certain organs is strong.

★ ★ ★

The other and very welcome development is that, as Mr. Macmillan reminded his hearers, there has been in the body of the UN "an extension of the field for the cold war." That too was unforeseeable in 1945 when only the first faint signs of the coming cold war were becoming visible.

So this session of the General Assembly has been and still is an anxious one.

The storms with which it opened died down when Mr. Khrushchev went home. Nothing has been heard for some time of the Soviet threats of a possible secession by the communist member states if they did not get their way about the admission of the Chinese People's Republic. Or of threats of a walk-out of the Soviet Union and its associates from the disarmament discussions of the political committee.

But these have had—as they were doubtless intended to have — their psychological effect. The feeling has been created that the Assembly must walk warily: that it must be careful to do nothing that might offend the Russians lest that should provoke a crisis dangerous to the very existence of the organization. The Assembly is in a sense working under duress and this has been a barrier to its effective functioning.

Take for example disarmament. The political committee has adjourned its discussion indefinitely. Expectation is that the whole question will now be shelved until an adjourned session of the Assembly in the new year.

That would give Mr. Khrushchev what he demanded. But what then? Will he repeat his threat that the Soviet Union will refuse to take part unless his demand for a drastic change in the composition of the Secretariat is accepted? If so a new and dangerous crisis will be upon us.

Or will the adjourned session quietly agree to set up some new commission? If so one will be left wondering why the wasted months since the Russians and their associates walked out of the ten-power commission last summer.

But the difficulties facing the Assembly are not wholly, though they are largely, of Soviet making. Some spring directly from the changed membership. For example the threatened deadlock over the election of the new members of the Security Council.

One can understand the wish of the Asian and African members for increasing representation on the Security Council and the Economic and Social Council but this should not be an excuse for failing to constitute the councils by delaying the elections to them any longer. I would add that if, under the two-thirds majority rule, membership of the councils is to be barred to countries whose politics for one reason or another are disliked by a third of the member states, it might conceivably prove impossible to constitute them at all.

The obvious solution is to increase the size of the councils. But here again the Soviet Union steps in. It opposes any amendment of the charter until it first has its way over the admission of Communist China. Personally I am all in favor of the admission of Communist China. But that is not the point.

The point is that the Soviet Union and its associates on more than one issue are threatening and trying to prevent the doing of something which the great majority wants done unless they are given their way on something which the majority does not want.

★ ★ ★

If those tactics were to be copied and adopted by another group than the communist bloc (and there are warning signs) then the whole basis of the United Nations would be endangered. That is something certainly not desired by the overwhelming majority of the member states. But the danger begins to loom. It is a matter to which we should all be giving serious and urgent thought.

Abuse of a Good Thing

'Unemployed' at $194 a Week

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

IN an article on unemployment insurance some time ago I cited a few cases of abuse of that "good thing" which had come to my personal knowledge. But those cases of abuse were very minor, and the amount of money falsely extracted from the fund was mere peanuts compared with what was involved in a case reported by the Winnipeg Tribune. Here is the story:

The husband, an $85-a-week carpenter, was laid off in December, 1958, just as he bought a building lot and poured a concrete basement. His wife, a garment worker, stayed at her $30 a week job, while he signed for jobless pay, claiming a nine-year-old son as a dependent. He got $36 a week in benefits. This also entitled him to earn $18 a week as an "allowable" income and he promptly got a job for one day a week that paid $16.50.

He mortgaged the lot and built his own home with money he borrowed. He worked four days a week on his house and one day at his carpenter's job.

Seven months later, while still "unemployed," he sold the house for a profit of $4,860. Then he promptly went back to work full time.

The family's 12-month income was: Salary, June to December, 1958, at $85 a week $2,210; unemployment insurance benefits, December, 1958, to July, 1959, at $36 a week, $1,080; allowed income, $16.50 a day for the same period, $495; his wife's earnings, $30 a week, $1,560; profit on the house, $4,860. Total, $10,205 or $194 a week.

In January, 1960, he was laid off again. He got another one-day a week job, bought a second lot and has now almost completed another house.

There is no regulation to stop him. There is no law that requires an unemployed person to account for his spare time.

A man out of work can build a house, rebuild automobiles, build boats, buy second-hand furniture and remodel it, to quote a few of the "trades" followed by many of Canada's unemployed, and sell these items after he returns to work, at a profit and without fear of the law.

In this way their incomes soar over the $5,460 ceiling above which no wage-earning Canadian is entitled to take part in the UIC plan.

Fact is sometimes said to be stranger than fiction, and it is sometimes funnier. The carpenter in the above case was legally drawing pay from the government as an unemployed journeyman, and at the same time he was just as legally self-employed as a prosperous master-builder! How many other cases are there of such legal unemployed assurance?

They Go Unpunished

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

THERE is a note of harsh irony in the situation of the 15 fallen quiz-show idols arraigned for perjury in New York.

They are being put through public humiliation—part of a lifetime branding for having given in to temptation—while their tempters, the producers of the fraudulent quiz shows, have largely escaped notoriety.

The crime alleged in these cases—that of lying to a grand jury—should not escape punishment. Nevertheless this case is sadly similar to the old story of the apprentice in crime who takes the "rap" while the mastermind goes free. It may be a cliche. But it remains a cause for indignation.

Unfortunately the present perjury indictments do not deal with the lies unwittingly viewed by millions on their TV sets, but with later alleged lies-about-those-lies made before grand jury investigators. So the original inventors of quiz fakery—the tempters with the big money in hand—are not directly involved.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

BY far the best-dressed couple among our circle of acquaintances is by no means the best off. We have always credited them with exceptionally good taste in clothes. Never have we seen her in an unbecoming hat, and all her coats and dresses look as if they are tailored for her alone, though we know they are not. And he has style. Invariably he looks like those advertisements of the young executive type in the color ads.

When they turned up at a gathering in their new winter wardrobe the other night, I could not resist enquiring, candidly, how they went about choosing their clothes.

"We follow a simple rule," said the husband. "We shop one day—and buy the next. Nearly everybody else goes shopping with the intention of buying. For example, they decide they will go down town and buy a coat. When we decide to buy a coat or a hat or even a pair of shoes, we devote one day to shopping. We visit around the stores, with the firm and fixed determination not to buy. We only look.

"The following day, or even several days later, we go buying. And we buy whatever we have settled upon as the result of our shopping day."

Insidious Change

I, for one, have not been able to read the details of the fourth draft of the proposed signs bylaw, and am horrified and greatly disturbed by what was revealed in Mr. Colin Graham's letters in the Nov. 23 Colonist.

Gradually and insidiously the charms of Victoria are being dissipated by lack of vision and imagination in those who should know to put things on the lowest plane the economic value of such things.

Time and time again, revisiting tourists have been heard to exclaim: "How Victoria has changed; it is becoming more and more like any ordinary city. Why don't you do something about it before it is too late?"

More power to Mr. Graham and to those with similar ideas.

Municipal Crisis

Obviously, while secession by Saanich from District 63 may solve the problem of passing the school bylaw, it will certainly not solve the problem of financing the schools and the other municipal services.

Education costs eat up the biggest slice of the tax dollar. However, education is not a local but national service. Without proper education our whole economy would collapse. We must have federal and increased provincial aid for school costs.

In short, what is needed is a new deal to meet the crisis in municipal finance. The basic principle of this new deal must be that all services not directly linked to serving property be taken over by the senior governments. These would include such heavy expenditures as education, relief, care for indigents and aged, children's aid and social welfare costs generally. Statistics show beyond a doubt that this would cut municipal taxes by 50%.

True Christmas Spirit

I have just discovered something which I hope will be of interest to at least some of your readers. The United Nations Association of Victoria is sponsoring the sales of Unicef (United Nations Children's Fund for all the World's Children) Christmas cards. These cards come in a variety of excellent designs and I certainly think that each card is worth more than the 10 cents charged.

The most important thing is that 50 per cent of the price of each card goes directly to starving and sick children in underprivileged areas of the world. It is remarkable to consider that one cent will protect a child from tuberculosis, five cents will cure a child of yaws, 10 cents will give fifty children a glass of milk and 25 cents will protect two people from malaria for an entire year.

I hope that many of your readers will take advantage of this excellent opportunity to send out first-class Christmas cards and at the same time participate in so worthy and efficient a cause. The whole idea seems so in keeping with the Christmas spirit that I intend to send Unicef cards exclusively this year.

Santa Exploited

I wonder how many people have taken a few moments to realize how our "way of life" is becoming governed more and more by the economic institutions within society? Is it as democratic as we supposedly believe it to be?

Time and time again the various media of mass communication have in some way or other psychologically coerced many people into financial expenditures or obligations which seldom satisfy a condition requiring urgent relief.

What do we have before us now but dear old St. Nicholas commencing Nov. 12 (42 days prior to Christmas Day). It seems tragic in many respects to see the traditional arrival of Santa exploited by the whims of the economic institutions within our society. Such advertising as "bring the children to see Santa . . . every day, now 'til Christmas" carries mainly a monetary motive but this is of little significance in comparison to the effect and turmoil it creates in the many homes where children are involved. A little reflection will soon reveal who the benefactor is in such a procedure.

Somehow I cannot but feel that the custom of old St. Nicholas was meant to convey a more profound feeling of charity than the prevailing mode. The current trend seems to be advancing beyond the limits of the Christmas festival. How long is it going to be before Santa and the old Witch will be so closely associated that both will either be riding on the same broom handle or on the same sleigh?

Try Sweepstakes

The last few days have seen the close of a canvass for funds for the Community Chest and the opening of yet another one for the churches, and so it goes on and on. Nobody can deny that the need is there, nor is the long-suffering public unsympathetic, but with the rising cost of essential commodities and present unemployment, the public just does not have the money.

Instead of going through this year after year and the subsequent failures, let's try another idea. It is not new, but it could work if certain groups would let it work. If the B.C. government could find ways and means to legalize and operate sweepstakes they would have money coming in not only from the rest of Canada but from all over the world. Money to build, staff and operate hospitals; money to meet the needs of the Community Chest, churches, and anything else of a worthy nature; and in time might even cover the construction of schools.

Try it, say, for a period of five years and if at the end of that time it was proved impractical then scrap it, but anything that can be made to work for the good of the people is worth earnest consideration and a try, and let's put an end to this constant demand for a handout from the public.

Dag Invites Pearson To Consult with Him

OTTAWA (CP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold of the United Nations has invited Lester B. Pearson and two other past presidents of the UN General Assembly to consult with him on organization of the world body's secretariat at the under-secretary level, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Pearson, national leader of Canada's Liberal party and former external affairs minister who was president of the assembly's seventh session in 1952-53, will go to New York for a three-day meeting opening Friday at UN headquarters.

Also called in by Mr. Hammarskjold for consultations were Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, president of the UN's 11th session, and Dr. Victor Belaunde of Peru, who presided at the 14th session.

Mr. Pearson's office said the assignment will require that he spend two or three weekends and part of the Christmas holidays in New York.

OTTAWA (UP) — Canadian importers of Japanese electronic tubes have attempted to defeat Japanese restrictions on exports to Canada by having them shipped through the United States, the House of Commons was told yesterday.

Finns Join West Trade Bloc

Kremlin Says Yes

MOSCOW (AP) — Finland won Soviet permission Thursday to associate with a Western European trade bloc and was promised a lease on a Russian section of a canal vital for Finnish timber exports.

But the announcement by Urho Kekkonen, the visiting Finnish president, that Finland will be granted a 50-year lease on the Soviet section of the Saimaa canal came as a surprise.

The 36-mile-long canal, connecting Finland's rich Saimaa Lake timber region with the Baltic, once belonged to Finland, but fell to the Soviet Union at the end of the Second World War.

The loss of the canal meant that timber and wood products had to be hauled overland at great expense.

Grain Market

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were fairly steady for the most part in dull trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

The firm prices were due more to light offerings than any special commercial demand.

The rye market showed early hesitation reflecting action of the wheat board in increasing rye deilvery quotas.

Oats and barley trade continued in domestic business.

The flax market showed light demand from outside sources.

Gas and Oil Rights

B.C. Nets $899,919

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Top prices in the sale of Crown petroleum and natural gas rights conducted yesterday by the B.C. department of mines and petroleum resources in Victoria were paid for parcels in the Boundary Lake oilfield area, north of Fort St. John.

Sale of 23 parcels realized $899,919 for the B.C. treasury, and the two largest bids were made by the Sinclair Canada Oil Company. It paid $155,107 for 250 acres southwest of the Boundary Lake field and another $121,107 for 652 acres, just south of a producing well in the field.

SIMILAR PARCELS

In addition Ohio Oil Company paid $65,984 and Canadian Homestead Oils Ltd. paid $78,900 for similar parcels in th Boundary Lake area.

Shell Oil of Canada Limited paid $86,797 for an exploration permit of 53,475 acres between Finlay Forks and Hudson Hope, while California Standard paid $68,727 for a 9",098-acre permit west of Nelson Forks.

Consolidated Mic-Mac and Mayfair Oil and Gas pooled $55,000 for 348 acres in the Wildmint area near Beaton River.

ALL BUT SIX

Eighty-four bids in all were received and bids were accepted on all but six parcels. One of these was the subocean parcel to the east of the Queen Charlotte Islands, where Richfield Oil has been doing some seismic shooting.

In view of the limited offerings, an official of the department described the sale as "satisfactory."

Largest Bid $155,107

Institutions again showed no enthusiasm to bid for government 91 and 182-day treasury bills yesterday, and the bids accepted were sufficiently high to boost the Bank of Canada's rediscount rate above the 4 per cent level for the first time since March 17.

The new rate is 4.02 per cent, up .29 per cent from last week's 3.73 per cent, and up 2.03 per cent from the 1960 low of 1.93 established last Sept. 22.

The bank rate is calculated by adding .25 per cent to the average amount the government had to pay each week for its 91-day treasury bills.

Following the sale of the bills there was some stiffening of bond prices, but dealers said the market was still extremely sensitive, and apparently uncertain as to what the government might do in the redeeming of its $600,000,000 issue due Dec. 15.

ROUND TFE CLOCK

B.C. Forest Products is putting its big mill at Youbou on a 24-hour basis by putting on a third shift, and is closing its pony mill, which has been on one shift operation.

The net result will be to find work for an additional 40 employees. The change is an indirect sequel to the fire of last summer which destroyed the B.C. Forest Products mill at Vancouver.

The company says increased purchases of logs from outside suppliers in the Cowichan area have made the change possible.

TENFOLD GAIN

The annual report of Hiram Walker-Gooderham and Worts shows that since 1934 the net value of each share in the company has grown from under $3 to over $26.

For the year ended Aug. 31, Hiram Walker sales and net earnings were a new record at $440,179,873 and $25,050,258 ($2.91 a share).

The company reports that it has increased its maturing capacity in Canada, the U.S. and Britain to 3,000,000 barrels.

Attending are A. F. Avery, president of the Federation of Canadian Forestry Associations; T. G. Wright, president, and J. S. Johannson and W. McMahon, vice-presidents of the B.C. Association; R. A. Kramer, Saskatoon, G. E. Mayne, Manitoba; B. F. Sine, Alberta; and federation secretary J. L. Van Camp.

Massey Buys Italian Firm

TORONTO (CP) — Massey-Ferguson Ltd. Thursday announced the purchase of an Italian tractor company, G. Landini and Figli, which will enable Massey-Ferguson to enter the Italian market "on a fully competitive basis."

Landini and Figli had 1960 sales of nearly $12,000,000 for its line of wheeled and crawler-type tractors. The plant is near Milan.

A statement from the Toronto headquarters of Massey-Ferguson said it had not been possible previously to enter the Italian market "because of tariffs and credit facilities which are favorable to Italian domestic production."

Sharp Decline In Carloadings

OTTAWA (CP)—This year's decline in railway freight traffic continued during the week ended Nov. 14.

A total of 64,515 cars of revenue freight were loaded in the week compared with 77,551 in the corresponding week last year, the bureau of statistics reported today. That brought total for the year to date to 3,224,350, down 5.4 per cent from 3,408,962 in the corresponding 1959 period.

Haiti Banishes Its Archbishop

JOAN CAULFIELD
. . . new favorite

PORT AU PRINCE—Roman Catholic Archbishop Francois Poirier was banished Thursday from this Negro Caribbean republic on charges of giving $7,000 to aid students accused by the government of Communist plotting.

The swift, secret expulsion of the highest Catholic official in Haiti climaxed a long dispute between the church and state—a dispute that has reached as far as the Vatican.

The immediate case involves a university student strike against a detention of student leaders accused of communism. The archbishop was drawn into the case, the government said, by giving money to what it called student Communists.

He denied the accusation on his arrival in Miami.

B.C., Ottawa End Talks On Columbia

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal and British Columbia governments Thursday night concluded a two-day conference on Columbia River development and scheduled a second for Victoria Dec. 8 and 9.

After that, it was indicated, both should be prepared to sit down with the United States to draft a treaty covering cooperative hydro and flood-control development for ratification by Parliament and Congress.

A communique issued Thursday night said negotiations over the two days covered matters related to the eventual treaty, based on principles already accepted by the Canadian and U.S. governments as published in a progress report Oct. 19.

'No Difficulty' Anticipated

Premier Bennett does not expect any difficulty in financing the Columbia River power development but he's still waiting word from federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming as to how much and on what terms the federal government is prepared to give.

He said he, as finance minister, had not heard from his Ottawa counterpart as to details of the federal government's proposals. Mr. Fleming had sent a telegram stating that he would answer soon but had been delayed by the opening of the House of Commons.

"I don't anticipate any difficulty in financing the Columbia," the premier said.

Victoria Report

Boom Story Premature ---Mine Chief

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — The president of Tanar Gold Mines Ltd. said Thursday that reports of a possible mining boom in connection with explorations being carried out 30 miles east of here were "premature."

Dave Ross was commenting on a report from Victoria Wednesday which said a 100-foot shaft being sunk near the Bowron River holds possibilities of a "jackpot" for Fred Garraway of Victoria.

"We obviously think the mine has very good possibilities or we wouldn't go in there," said Mr. Ross. "But it's too soon to say we have a uranium or vanadium deposit."

Superwomen May Rule World

LONDON (AP) — The British Medical Association's magazine says the time may come, when a race of superwomen will rule a manless world.

"It could happen," warns the Family Doctor, a monthly magazine published and edited by physicians.

"Biologically speaking, there is no real need for such a large number of males in the population as we have today," writes A. J. Burton, a biology researcher.

He quotes a 1946 Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Hermann J. Muller, as saying that sperm should be taken from the geniuses, frozen for 20 years and then administered to carefully selected females to produce a race of supermen. Dr. Muller is a geneticist on the faculty of Indiana University.

Burton pointed to honey bees, saying a hive contains many thousands of them, but only a few are males.

He took this a step further, citing green flies or aphids.

The greenflies banish males from their population for all but a short season of the year.

Belafonte Troupe

Bold Voices and Rhythms Displayed by Folk Singers

By BERT BINNY

What a wonderful time the Belafonte Folk Singers gave the 1,000 music lovers who turned out to the Royal Theatre last night!

Bold vocal effects, clever lighting and staging but mostly lovely harmonies and rhythms all went to make their program a great success.

ALL OVER WORLD

There were folk songs from all over the world, including an African festival song, "Sidinai Ye," which had the teen-age girls squealing with delight as they did for "Judy Drownded." An inspired arrangement of the nursery rhyme "Who Killed Cock Robin?" had the audience listening with the same rapture as they gave to the presentation of Schubert's lovely "La Pastorella." And the humor in such as "The Frozen Logger" came over in no time at all.

The movement used was always effective, particularly in the Chilean "Mi caballo blanco" and the French-Canadian "Les Raftsmen."

12 SINGERS

There were 12 singers with conductor Robert de Cormier and three instrumentalists. Within the chorus there were some truly delightful individual voices; blended they were even more brilliant.

Arab Fleet Formed

KUWAIT (Reuters) — Arab oil experts conferring in this Persian Gulf sheikhdom Thursday decided to form an Arab tanker fleet with an expected capital of $100,000,000 and with headquarters in Kuwait.

'Rightists' Lose Stigma

PEKING (Reuters) — More than 260 Chinese who fell from Communist grace two years ago as "rightists" have reformed and no longer carry that stigma, officials announced yesterday.

Pardons are being granted to "rightists who have truly reformed" and they have been "relieved of the rightist designation" in accordance with a government decision last year.

Most "rightists" were branded in the "ractification campaign" of 1958. Object of this campaign was to weed out persons in public life who attacked the Communist party and the regime when invited to criticize shortcomings.

NEW YORK — Alexander Bittleman, 70-year-old Marxist leader often called the "Lenin of American communism," has been ousted from the American Communist party on grounds that he has taken the road of "anti-party welfare."

Verwoerd Says:

Parliament For Whites

PRETORIA (Reuters) — Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd yesterday rejected a policy of "limited integration" and said colored (mixed race) people would not be allowed to become senators and members of Parliament in South Africa.

In an interview with the pro-government newspaper Die Transvaler, Verwoerd said that to have colored people sit in Parliament as was asked by the opposition United Party "would mean allowing limited integration, which would not satisfy the outside world."

Verwoerd said "parallel development" presented the only peaceful solution as far as South Africa's colored people were concerned.

Integrationists who wanted to make concessions to colored people would only be paving the way for integration of all races, Verwoerd said.

Press Gives Acid Test

What's in Bee Venom? Buyer Isn't Certain

LONDON (Reuters)—A group of British reporters Wednesday walked out on a Canadian doctor at a press conference called to announce a project for treating sufferers from arthritis, skin diseases and nervous disorders by bee-venom therapy in Canada.

Dr. Joseph Saine, director of a Montreal clinic, has decided to set up clinics throughout Canada where bee-venom therapy developed by Englishwoman Mrs. Julia Owen will be given.

The walkout took place when Saine was being questioned about the constituent parts of bee-venom.

When he said that one constituent was "formalic acid," a reporter insisted that no such acid existed.

Another reporter suggested that it was proposed to put into patients something which so far had resisted analysis and added "I think that is disgraceful."

Several reporters asserted that it was not known what the bee-venom contained and they walked out.

Later Dr. Saine said: "I am not an expert on the analysis of bee-venom nor am I a specialist in chemistry. I have read that formalic acid is a constituent of bee-venom but don't take that as dogma."

Eskimos' Fishing Trip Big Success

Daily Colonist King Fisherman Mexico-trip winner Doug Dye, left, namesake Nat Dye, right, and Ed Gray, had best luck of all who took part in Edmonton Eskimo fishing trip at Anglers Rentals at Brentwood Bay Thursday. Players expressed extreme gratefulness to Saanich boat house operators who made trip possible.—Colonist photos.)

Don Stevenson, right, knows how to lean on scales as grilse weight amazes Ted Tully, who lost about 15-pound cod right near dock. Eskimos leave for Vancouver today at 3.45 by plane, after three days of intensive practice.

Jammed Detroit Rink As Red Wings Grab First Place in NHL

Detroit Red Wings rewarded the largest hockey crowd in Olympia Stadium—15,859 screaming fans—by taking the National Hockey League lead Thursday with a 3-1 victory over the defending-champion Montreal Canadiens.

Defeat dropped the Canadiens into a third-place tie with Toronto when the Maple Leafs were beaten, 2-1, in Chicago by the Black Hawks.

Last night's results, which left the top four clubs within two points set up Saturday night's action, in which Chicago plays at Montreal and Detroit visits Toronto.

	P	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Detroit	22	11	7	4	72	65	26
Chicago	21	10	6	5	62	54	25
Montreal	21	10	7	4	73	69	24
Toronto	21	10	7	4	65	51	24
New York	21	7	13	1	68	84	15
Boston	22	4	12	6	60	77	14

Last night's scores: Montreal 1 at Detroit 3; Toronto 1 at Chicago 2; New York 5 at Boston 3.

Next games: tomorrow—Chicago at Montreal; Detroit at Toronto.

About the only disappointment for Detroit's fans was the failure of Gordie Howe to get his 1,000th league point. Rookies Howie Glover and Al Johnson, both one-time Western Hockey League players, and veteran Alex Delvecchio did the Detroit scoring as Howe was held pointless.

MOORE SCORES 20

Dickie Moore became the first player to get 20 goals this season when he scored Montreal's only goal early in the third period.

A big star in the Detroit victory was Hank Bassen, all-star Western Hockey League goalkeeper last season. He stopped Canadiens several times on close-in drives and probably swung the decision when he made three or four fine saves in rapid succession as Montreal put on a jamming attack late in the second period.

Home ice again proved beneficial for the Hawks, who have yet to lose in 11 games played before their own fans.

BOWER SHINES

They got quite a tussle from the ambitious Leafs, who again got standout goaling from ageless Johnny Bower. Murray Balfour got the winner in the second minute of the third period, tipping in a lateral shot made by linemate Billy Hay.

Ron Murphy scored for Chicago in the first period and George Armstrong tied it in the second period while Hawks were playing two men short.

Extra entertainment came midway through the final 20 minutes with a widespread difference of opinion which ended with Bob Baun of the Leafs getting minor and major penalties and Bert Olmstead of the Leafs and Ab McDonald and Eric Nesterenko of the Hawks getting major penalties.

In last night's other game, New York Rangers made it two over Boston in two nights and moved out of the cellar, now occupied by the Bruins.

Andy Bathgate, who scored three goals in Wednesday's win, added two more last night, his 13th and 14th of the season. Johnny Wilson also got two but goalkeeper Lorne Worsley cut himself a share of the credit by making 34 stops against a Boston team which has lost three in a row and seven of its last eight.

Beats Gutoski

Naimark Rink Still to Lose

VANCOUVER — Barry Naimark's stacked rink on which the 1959 B.C. champion is playing third rocks spent almost all day Thursday on the ice but couldn't be headed off and went into the final day of the Totem Bonspiel as the only undefeated quartet in the record 212 which started play last Sunday.

Another tough hurdle was cleared Thursday evening when Naimark's foursome, skipped by Herbie Olson of Edmonton, knocked Victoria's Tony Gutoski out of the Totem Event, the No. 1 primary which Gutoski won in the first Totem Bonspiel in 1955.

Final score was 8-4 with the winners pretty well in charge from the start.

Bill Allan of Olds, Alta., and veteran Fred Tinling of Vancouver both fell out of the unbeaten class Wednesday and were left in one of the primary events.

Several powerful rinks, including Roy Vinthers' Vancouver entry and Matt Baldwin's Edmonton aggregation, were moving along in two secondary events and faced with considerable curling tomorrow, when the bonspiel ends.

Gutoski and Glen Harper of Duncan, current B.C. champion, were left from the nine rinks entered from Vancouver Island.

Harper moved on in the Evergreen event, the No. 2 primary, with victories over Stan Szabo of Mission City and Aubrey Neff of Vancouver. Gutoski won twice in the Fraser event.

ELIMINATED

Gordie Moore of Victoria was eliminated through losses to Arden Brown of Vancouver and Dave Dunn of Nanaimo. Elmer Hoffman of Victoria lost his last chance last night when he took a 10-4 thumping from Lyle Reichert of New Westminster. Also sidelined were Jack Moir and Bob Siddall of Victoria, Harry Spottiswood of Port Alberni, Dunn and Brock Wilson of Nanaimo.

Heber Seller of Victoria was eliminated from the two-event veterans' bonspiel.

Easterner Scouts Grey Cup

Rider-Eskimo Clash Far from Dull

By BOB FREWIN
Telegram News Service

There is the impression afoot that Ottawa Rough Riders and Edmonton Eskimos are heading into one of history's dullest Grey Cup games.

Basis for this fear is the great similarity between the Riders and Eskimos. Both are built on those safe but moribund football principles—defence and ball control.

In the sometimes brash opinion of this observer this forced meeting will not provide the dull affair that the Argonaut-Bomber clan fears.

Au contraire. Peeps expects quite a fine and stirring game in Empire Stadium on Saturday.

For one thing both the Eskimos and Riders pass a little more than their critics really admit. Not better—just more.

For another, the Eskimos have never been a dud in the Grey Cup game despite their Drive Series offence and their hard-rock defence.

Here is the Sam Peeps' Grey Cup scouting report:

Ottawa: Running Offence: Based on the Iowa Wing-T attack. Dave Thelen between the tackles, Ron Stewart on sweeps and reverses. Russ Jackson on options and keepers give it variety. Joe Kelly has come on in late season as runner and passer. The wide offtackle is his best move and Raffles is good at it.

★ ★ ★

Passing Offence: Physically Jackson can throw well. Trouble is he prefers to run. Opposition defences know this. As a result Jackson's option efficiency is no longer what it should be. Ron Lancaster is a hot-cold passer prone to interceptions. The roll-out pass is his best play. The sideline to Bob Simpson is Ottawa's bread-and-butter pass play.

★ ★ ★

Rushing Defence: Ottawa has one weakness which Edmonton is certain to find and exploit. Jim Reynolds, the left end, likes to play loose and charge. If he tries this on the Esks he'll find J. Parker whizzing past on Edmonton's pet option play.

Ottawa's standard defence has been 5-3-4. Riders will have to shift to a 5-4-3 to counter the Eskimos running game and this will create some personal problems since Ron Koes is Ottawa's only hefty inside linebacker.

★ ★ ★

Pass Defence: Excellent Riders have edge here. Joe Poirier can be fooled into coming up so that you can throw over him and George Brancato has some trouble covering tall receivers. Ottawa rushes well and Lou Bruce is one of the finest defensive ends in football, a rusher and a tackler.

★ ★ ★

Edmonton: Running Offence: Hasn't changed basically since Pop Ivy put in the twin fullback system in 1955. And Johnny Bright and Norm Kwong are still at it, Kwong crashing the centre, Bright offtackle and both faking to set up Parker on his roll-out plays. Esks use halfbacks Joe-Bob Smith and Cowboy Woodruff as blockers and receivers. They hardly ever carry the ball.

Parker is the man who must be stopped. And no one has really done it in seven years. Watch right tackle Roger Nelson block. He is great.

★ ★ ★

Passing Offence: Amounts to Parker rolling into the flat and pitching short to his backs or to right end Jim Letcavits. Sometimes Parker will fake right, bootleg left and pitch to Tommy-Joe Coffey on the other side. And sometimes he'll throw deep, usually with only the prime receiver downfield. Since Eskimos' passing is based on Parker's rollout play, he must be contained. Don Getty is a good drop-back passer and Parker a fine receiver when Esks make this switch.

★ ★ ★

Rushing Defence: Beyond doubt, the best in the country, it will be pointless for Ottawa to try and crack Edmonton between the tackles. But the flanks afford some promise although Ed Gray, the right end, is a dandy.

Al Ecuyer, the defensive guard, is tops. Nat Dye and Toby Deese are first-year imports in the Eskimo tradition of big hard-hitters. Jim Toon plays if anyone is hurt.

★ ★ ★

Pass Defence: Argonaut passing would rip this apart but Argonauts are not in the game. Ottawa can still do it provided Frank Clair lets Lancaster and Jackson open up early. Passing is Ottawa's chance to win. Eskimos play a standard 5-4-3, with Billy Smith, Oscar Kruger and Howie Schumm deep. Rollie Miles, the great veteran, drops back should a four-man umbrella be needed.

All the Eskimos tackle hard and accurately, pursue well and charge. The umbrella can be punctured on hooks and bend-ins over centre where Ted Tully and Gino Fracas are a trifle slow and unused to covering. But Ottawa hasn't shown much of this type of pass attack.

Fight to Finish if Tied

VANCOUVER (CP)—Overtime will be played until a winner is decided if Saturday's Ottawa-Edmonton Grey Cup final is tied after the regulation 60 minutes, says football commissioner G. Sydney Halter.

If fog rolls in, the game will be postponed until Sunday "or any subsequent day" until conditions are favorable.

The subject was brought up after three days of intermittent rain. The long-range forecast is for continued unsettled weather and possibly rain on Saturday and the forecaster said fog "is extremely unlikely."

If overtime is needed Rough Riders and Eskimos would have a 10-minute rest period after regulation time. Then they would play two 10-minute halves until the issue was decided, the teams changing ends after each 10 minutes with no rest period.

Ottawa Older, Bigger in Front Line

Ottawa Rough Riders and Edmonton Eskimos average out to about 25½ years, but there is a difference. The Riders have a youthful backfield working behind a veteran line while the Eskimos have a more veteran backfield and a younger line.

With seven backs either 23 or 22 years old, Riders have a big edge in backfield youth over the Eskimos, who have such veterans as 31-year-old Rollie Miles, 29-year-old Johnny Bright, 29-year-old Normie Kwong and 28-year-old Jackie Parker.

By comparison, Ottawa quarterbacks Ron Lancaster and Russ Jackson are 22 and 23 respectively. Halfback Joe Kelly and fullback Dave Thelen are 23 and halfback Ron Stewart is 25. In the line, however, the Esks average almost two years per man less than the Riders.

VAST DIFFERENCE

Although the backfielders and ends are almost exactly even as regards heft, there is a vast difference, in Ottawa's favor, in the bulk of the linesmen.

Edmonton has nothing to match Riders' five huge tackles—the 275-pound Tom "Emperor" Jones, the 270-pound Angelo Mosca, the 250-pound Giles Archambault, the 245-pound Milt Graham and the 235-pound Moe Racine. And there's a difference, too, at guard, where Fred Robinson and Sam Scoccia, both at 240 pounds, outweight anything that Edmonton has.

Who Wants Cup Tickets?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Grey Cup tickets? They're easy.

British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union put 1,300 on public sale Thursday morning. Early Thursday night general manager Herb Capozzi of the Lions said they had "about 1,000 tickets left."

Packers' Plans Given Jolt

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Ninowski swept the title-hopeful Green Bay Packers off their feet with a devastating first-half passing attack that started Detroit Lions toward a 23-10 victory Thursday in the National Football League's annual Thanksgiving Day clash.

The defeat seriously crippled Green Bay's western division title chances. Trailing division-leading Baltimore by one game going into the contest, the Packers now have dropped into third place behind Chicago Bears.

Calgary After Grey Cup

CALGARY (UPI)—The Calgary delegation to the Western Interprovincial Football Union meeting in Vancouver was expected to make a bid for the 1962 Grey Cup game.

McMahon Stadium now has a seating capacity of 20,000 between the goal lines and an additional 15,000 seats could be installed without difficulty if the application is successful.

ROLLIE MILES

Balmy Beach Blew Chance

Edmonton Almost Passed Up Miles

By HAL WALKER

VANCOUVER (TNS)—If a football man in the deep south had been able to pronounce Regina in a manner that Paul McGarry, the 1951 manager of Toronto Balmy Beach, could understand chances are Rollie Miles wouldn't be wearing Edmonton's green and gold uniform into the Grey Cup game here Saturday.

McGarry was desperately hunting talent for the Beaches in the summer of '51 and made contact with this southerner who said he had a halfback that was just the greatest thing that ever laced on low cuts.

"This kid is in Canada now," he told McGarry. "Name is Miles."

"Where?" demanded Paul.

"A place called Ragoona," the man said, and McGarry terminated the conversation abruptly because he knew that anybody who could find "Ragoona" in Canada must be the type of genius with whom he didn't care to associate. Mr. McGarry never did figure that "Ragoona" comes out Regina in the deep south of the U.S.A.

The scene switches now to Edmonton where sports writer Don Fleming, covering a semi-pro baseball game picks up the press box phone and telephones Annis Stukus, then coach of the Esks, at home.

"Stuke," the scribe says, "get down here right away. I've found an All-American football player for you."

"And who might that be" asked Mr. Stukus in his unbelieving tone.

"Name is Miles," said Fleming. "He played for St. Augustine College in Florida." Mr. Stukus, coach, excused himself from the phone to consult his list of All-Americans, All-Conferences and Americans, period.

"There is no guy by that name in any of my lists. This guy is obviously a phony. Forget it, but thanks anyway," Stuke told his caller.

"But Stuke," the scribe persisted, "this guy has already stolen six bases in the game and is playing with a sprained ankle."

Stukus' ears sprinted up like a rabbit's at this latest intelligence and he asked the scribe to check out the young phenom and have him check in with the Esks for football practice the next night.

From the very start Miles impressed Stukus. "He had played football all right. But I liked the bouncy, cocky way he did things. He could run like a whippet and had a mark of class. I blush when I recall it now but we paid him only $2,200. Halfway through the season we gave him a $1,000 bonus."

'God Help Vancouver'

EDMONTON (CP) — Boisterous western Canada football fans, led by 450 Winnipeg supporters, left Thursday evening on the first of four 23-car Canadian National Railways Grey Cup specials, bound for Vancouver and Saturday's classic.

Thursday morning about 100 Edmonton fans travelled to Calgary on the Canadian Pacific Railway where they joined 300 Winnipeg and Regina fans on the 23-car CPR Grey Cup special.

A sleeping car conductor was heard mumbling: "God help Vancouver."

Best bet for fishermen this weekend would appear to be to go out and shoot themselves a deer before the season ends, because this is just the kind of dirty, miserable weather hunters like and fishermen detest.

But fishermen, who don't mind facing the elements, will find pretty good fishing in the top four miles of Cowichan River, some cutthroat and coho in the Cowichan riverbottom pools, some winter springs at the mouth of Tod Inlet, some big grilse at McKenzie Bay, some jacksprings and winter springs at the Goldstream end of Saanich Inlet and some good-sized winter springs off the Victoria waterfront.

And here is a chance for hunters to combine hunting and fishing. Victoria Fish and Game access committee chairman, Bob Bool, says the Highways Sawmill access gate at the end of the Sooke Pot Holes road will be closed this weekend, and in its place the old Bernard logging grounds, now operated by B.C. Forests Products will be opened. Turn right on Harborview Road at Sasseenos, just before Sooke, to reach this hunting ground which also gives access to Grassy, Crabapple and Shields Lakes which provide good trout fishing. This is the area which was closed to fishermen last spring after some property damage and thefts in the area. . . . And a word of warning, watch your directions because it is easy country in which to get lost.

HMCS Naden Commodore Harold Groos and his executive assistant, Cmdr. J. H. G. Bovey found the top end of Cowichan River productive on Wednesday when they reeled in 13 trout, weighing up to four pounds. Dr. John Roe and Dr. T. A. M. Peet also had good luck in the same waters and fishing guide Art Hancock says that plenty of fish are being taken, mostly rainbows, but some cutthroat, dolly vardens and browns, although the river is running a little high.

Both the drift boat fishermen and bank spin-casters are having good luck on salmon egg flies and red and white hackles, fished along the riverbottom with a quarter ounce of weight.

Hancock says a few steelhead have been seen in the river, but he has not heard of any being taken yet. . . . "We expect them any time now."

Abundant water in the river is providing a fine run for salmon which are shooting right through to the lake. Loggers have reported seeing salmon in some of the streams flowing into Cowichan Lake, which have not had salmon runs for several years.

★ ★ ★

The Stamp and Ash Rivers in the Alberni district are producing fairly well and Sproat Lake and Great Central are all producing trout on the troll, but winter steelhead have not yet shown up in the Alberni Valley.

At Campbell River a seven-pound steelhead was landed on Tuesday, but severe weather and the hunting season is keeping most fishermen off the river.

May Hall says the few fishermen who have been out at Goldstream end of the Inlet have been bringing in a good number of salmon. G. Lynch landed a 19-pounder near the Stone House on a Minnow Teaser. . . . Art Mawer and party caught seven, largest 11 pounds, in the Narrows on Strip-Teaser. . . . C. D. Finch caught an 11½-pounder in the Narrows on Minnow-Teaser, 100 feet of nylon line and eight ounces of weight. . . . E. Jarvis caught four jacks and an 8½-pound spring and Alf Joyce had two springs, an 8-pounder and 5½-pounder.

There are a fair number of grilse and bluebacks at the Goldstream end and Miss Hall reports Henry Joe and party caught 12 and Nick Lapshinoff five on bucktail fly.

Tom Alexander caught a 10½-pound winter spring at the mouth of Tod Inlet on Tuesday, using a Number 4 Tom Mack, flasher, 100 feet of line and planer. On the whole it has been too windy to fish Brentwood, and when it hasn't been windy it has been raining hard.

Stukus Says:

Riders' Defence Exception in East

By ANNIS STUKUS

VANCOUVER (TNS)—One of the things that hurt eastern clubs in recent Grey Cup contests as the west won five in the past six years has been the lack of concentration on defences.

Eastern fans will talk about the wide-open type of football played back there and how much more exciting it is than the western brand.

My theory is that the game back east is more wide open because the defences aren't too good. That is, except in the case of the Ottawa Rough Riders.

For a change, the eastern representative, in this case the Ottawa Rough Riders, has a strong defensive club to go along with a good offensive unit.

I've mentioned before that Ottawa impresses me as a "Western type" football club. By that I mean they have a stand-out line of rangy fellows who can block—and love it. They have a good offensive team. But more important, they can get the ball back from the foe.

This has always been a major feature of the western representative in the past. I think it was the determining factor in the years that Edmonton belted Montreal in three straight wins.

Montreal had a great offensive club, one that cracked the Edmonton defence for more points than was usually scored against the Esks in those days.

But Edmonton stopped them often enough, kept the ball long enough to run more plays than Montreal and eventually score more points.

Then how come I still like the Eskimos for this one—when a guy is pretty high on the Ottawa club?

It's fairly simple.

I would suggest Ottawa had the only really tough club in the East, especially when it came to line play. They didn't have the kind of opposition for their linemen that Edmonton ran into just about every week.

No matter what the movies show, how much the scouts tell them about Edmonton, you can't really get the message of how hard a team hits across to a bunch of fellows who haven't been hit. They have to find out for themselves—and they may never recover their balance.

While the Ottawa line will be larger than the Edmonton unit, this is an old story with the Esks. They've been outsized all year, have had expert head-thumpers looking for their scalps. Anything that Ottawa will toss at them won't be too much of a shock.

Council Warns Legislature:

Pay-as-You-Go to Go If School Costs Stay

* * *

MLAs Asked to Alleviate 'Unfair' Expense-Sharing

By R. O. MARRION

Because Victoria city "has contributed far more than its share in Greater Victoria school costs," city council voted unanimously to ask members of the legislature to seek "alleviation of the situation" by the government.

Without discussion, council passed a motion by Ald. Austin Curtis to this effect. The resolution described education as the most costly part of local government, and said Victoria would be obliged to discard its pay-as-you-go policy if denied a better arrangement.

Other council business:

● The aldermen voted to sell five lots near the Rockland water tower, on the east side of Belmont through to Terrace between Fort and Regents Place, to Blake Construction Ltd. for $35,000, subject to the property being rezoned for a "high-rise" luxury apartment block.

● They referred to health and welfare committee for study a request from the Tuberculosis Society of B.C. for land for a tuberculosis clinic behind the health and welfare centre on Cook.

All Tenders Rejected

● All tenders on a $96,195 local-improvement debenture issue were rejected after city manager C. C. Wyatt held they weren't in keeping with Victoria's "extremely enviable" credit position, and suggested borrowing from the bank for a few months to see if the situation would improve. Best of 10 bids would have resulted in a cost to the city of 5.95 per cent.

● Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow suggested obtaining advice from the bank manager, but Ald. Elmer McEwen declared with a grin, "A banker is the worst to get advice from. He'll loan you an umbrella on a sunny day and as soon as it rains he wants it back."

● Mayor Scurrah confirmed that Victoria residents are paying more for water than Esquimalt residents, to whom Victoria distributes water, but added that "it's in the hands of the Public Utilities Commission and it's a complicated case."

Off Bun Wagon Floor

● He assured Ald. McEwen that budget provision is planned next year for an ambulance for the police and fire departments, so citizens won't have to be taken to hospital in emergencies on the floor of "a bun wagon."

● B.C. Electric offered to pipe gas to the old English gas street lantern being erected beside the publicity bureau, and to supply gas and maintenance for $5 a month, but at the suggestion of Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean the company will be asked if it is interested in supplying the gas free.

● Ald. Curtis told council two modern mercury lights been been installed at Broad and Cormorant to give an idea of what the illumination will be like when eight of them are installed at each downtown intersection.

Law Student 'Beats Rap'

OTTAWA (CP)—Guy Fontaine of Edmonton, law student at University of Ottawa, did some homework and beat a parking ticket rap Thursday in traffic court.

Fontaine was charged with parking illegally on Cumberland Street. He told the court that a civic bylaw covering this area in downtown Ottawa doesn't provide parking restrictions.

Magistrate L. A. Sherwood upheld his argument.

Japan Turns From Canada

VANCOUVER (UPI) — Japanese consul Munéo Tanabe said yesterday Japanese firms were beginning to cancel orders for Canadian wheat because of a strike by grain handlers at Vancouver elevators. He said the firms were giving the orders to the United States because "Japan's grain-purchasing schedule is being seriously upset."

Bylaw Opposition Fields Candidate

Members of ratepayers' associations who vigorously opposed last week's $784,000 school building bylaw will field a candidate to oppose Saanich school board chairman James D. Helps in the Dec. 8 election.

Nomination of retired businessman Lewis Harvey was sponsored by Len Wadams of North Sidney Property Owners' Association, and M. D. A. Darling of Deep Cove Property Owners' Association.

The two associations are members of a newly-formed ratepayers' council that joined forces to fight the bylaw.

Mr. Harvey is a former vice-president of the Retail Merchants of Canada.

Chamber of Commerce Urges Right-to-Work Law for B.C.

B.C. Chamber of Commerce yesterday asked the government to introduce "right to work" laws at the Jan. 26 session of the legislature.

It also asked the government to appoint a royal commission to study educational finance.

The requests were contained in a brief presented to the cabinet here yesterday. The chamber delegation, led by President Maurice P. Finnerty of Penticton, represents 119 boards of trade and chambers of commerce in the province.

BAN CLOSED SHOP

The brief called for a change in the Labor Relations Act prohibiting closed shop agreements.

It also said, however, the chamber doesn't request prohibition of agreements requiring all employees in a bargaining unit to pay dues to the union certified as bargaining agent, whether they are members or not.

On education, the brief said the chamber would support "desirable changes and refinements" which may result from the Chant royal commission report now in the hands of the government.

COSTS INQUIRY

It went on: "(We) believe, however, there is an urgent need for establishment of a commission to inquire into education costs and financing, and to determine a fair division of financial responsibility between province and municipalities."

To maintain our high standard of living, the brief said, "employee and employer must work together in harmony arising out of mutual respect and understanding."

It added that democratic liberties must be sustained at all times. "It is the right of every individual," the brief said, "freely to elect and follow the vocation of his choice, regardless of his membership or non-membership in a labor movement or employers' organization."

ABANDON BOARDS

The chamber also called for abandonment of present conciliation boards, sought new time limits for holding of strike votes, and urged cabinet powers to make arbitration compulsory in certain disputes affecting the public at large.

Courses Urged In Pollution

OTTAWA (CP) — CCF MP H. W. Herridge of Kootenay West said yesterday Canadian universities should be encouraged to launch courses for students who want to devote their lives to fighting pollution of water, air or soil.

He also called for greater research into the effect of pollution on the health of Canadians.

Rheumatism Hurts U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Rheumatism is costing Britain and its industries £80,000,000 ($220,000,000) a year in loss of work, a leading authority on the disease said yesterday.

Dr. W. S. C. Copeman, chairman of the Empire Rheumatism Council, said the first comprehensive survey in Britain had shown about 5,726,000 persons — 14 per cent of the country's adult population — suffer from severe forms of the disease.

Job Action Demanded By Crowd

TORONTO (CP) — A shouting, fist-waving crowd of unemployed Wednesday night demanded federal and provincial action to provide them with jobs.

One of the 240 men at the meeting was ejected when he shouted that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, which sponsored the meeting, was run by "a bunch of Communists."

Another man jumped to his feet repeatedly to demand a motorcade leave for Ottawa today "to shame Diefenbaker into action." He was shouted down by others who said they must organize first.

The meeting agreed to establish an organization calling itself the Metro Association of Unemployed Workers. They voted to send a delegation to Premier Frost Dec. 15.

Break-In Charges Bring Pair Into Two Courts

Two Victoria men appeared in Greater Victoria police courts yesterday to answer charges of burglary.

In Colwood RCMP court Donald Nelson, no fixed address, and Robert Borgal, 723 Yates Street, were charged with breaking and entering and attempted theft from a Malahat service station.

Jointly charged with them were Robert Charles Jackson, no fixed address and Albert Jenik, 1119 Thurlow, Vancouver. The four men were remanded to Wednesday by Magistrate A. I. Thomas after they elected trial by judge and jury.

ELK LAKE BREAK-IN

In Saanich police court yesterday afternoon, before Magistrate William Ostler, Nelson and Borgal were charged jointly with George Guraly, 228 Beechwood, and Bella Piocza, no fixed address, with breaking and entering an Elk Lake service station and stealing goods to a value of $650.

Nelson pleaded not guilty to the offence. Borgal, who had previously appeared and admitted the offence, changed his plea to not guilty. They were remanded to Dec. 1 for trial.

Guraly admitted the offence in Saanich court Tuesday and did not change his plea. Piocza, appearing for the first time, pleaded guilty. They were remanded to Nov. 29 for sentence. Bail of $2,000 with a similar surety was allowed.

Jenik pleaded guilty to the same charge in Tuesday's court and was then remanded to Nov. 29 for sentence. He also pleaded guilty to three charges of stealing money from public telephones in Vancouver.

Police said yesterday that further charges are pending.

Partners in the trucking firm of Mattison and Patterson were each fined a total of $35 on charges laid under Saanich municipality's year-old truck licencing bylaw.

William P. Mattison and Peter Patterson contested the charges, claiming that trucks carrying gravel for the CNR tracks were not delivering in Saanich.

The men claimed that the trucks were delivering gravel to Crown lands which were exempt from the provisions of the bylaw.

Magistrate Ostler agreed with prosecutor Kenneth Murphy that the railroad bed was within the municipality and imposed the minimum fine of $25. Under the bylaw the men were also required to pay $10 each, the cost of a truck licence.

★ ★ ★

A man convicted recently of impaired driving, and fined $250 for the offence, was yesterday allowed to retain his driver's licence when he promised the magistrate he would only drive for business purposes for the next six months.

Magistrate Ostler told George Rosman, 1417 Government Street, he was reluctant to suspend the licence as Rosman was earning a living despite a heart ailment.

If the licence was taken away Rosman would be forced to accept welfare, he said.

★ ★ ★

Two of a trio jointly charged with breaking and entering and theft from Mai's Cafe, 2251 Government, pleaded guilty yesterday in city police court and the third pleaded not guilty.

Frederick James Morry pleaded not guilty, and Ronald Morry and Patricia Joseph guilty. Bail was set at $2,000 for F. J. Morry and he was remanded to Nov. 29 for trial.

Keep It Up Herman Urged

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UPI)—Herman the tomcat, resting at a veterinarian's, received messages yesterday urging him to keep up the good work, while a judge was considering whether he should be confined to quarters.

Truman Pierson, president of Allied Cat Lovers, Inc., telegraphed from Minneapolis telling Herman to stick "to your very proper and passionately efficient style."

Meanwhile, the cat's owner, Russell Bowler, said Herman was at the veterinarian's because of a fever and internal injuries after being "stolen" from his basement early Tuesday.

Superior Judge Ralph Hoyt had under advisement a request for an injunction to keep Herman at home.

The order was sought by Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Cook, who also asked $3,500 damages. They charged that Herman, "possessed of fiendish intelligence," twice attacked Mrs. Cook and mauled several of their dozen Siamese cats.

The Cooks said they would pay to have Herman neutered.

Kasavubu Asks Delay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Congo President Joseph Kasavubu promised Thursday to let the United Nations know within a week when it may safely send a political conciliation commission to his country.

The president agreed in principle to the commission visiting the Congo but advised a delay, sources said. The Congolese people were against the commission and Kasavubu said he needed time to change their minds.

UN Bolsters Guard Against Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (CP)—Guards were posted at all United Nations offices and near the homes of UN personnel Thursday as a precaution against reprisals from revenge-seeking Congolese troops.

Although the city was relatively quiet, Congolese troops were said to be "very worked up" over the death of Lt.-Col. Joseph Kokolo in a skirmish with UN Tunisian troops and Ghanaian police outside the Ghanaian Embassy Monday night.

Pascal Kapella, vice-commissioner for information, said the body of another Congolese had been found, bringing the known death toll in the fight to six, including one Tunisian.

STRENGTHENED CONTROL

Col. Joseph Mobutu, the army commander, appeared to have strengthened his control of the capital.

Canadian Army signal men quartered at the Athenee Royal School building remained on the alert with six armed guards by day and 12 by night.

However, travel restrictions in and out of the school were partially lifted although the signallers were still confined to barracks.

The Canadian commander, Col. Paul Smith of Edmonton and Vancouver, said that if conditions continue to improve, he may drop the alert situation Friday.

Morale is high and the troops did not appear to be worried.

Riddled by UN Bullets

'What Have I Done To Deserve This?'

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A Congolese survivor of Monday's battle at the Ghana Embassy said yesterday his legs were shattered by repeated bursts of UN machine-gun fire while he lay on the ground holding his dying commander.

The commander, Lt.-Col. Joseph Kokolo, was killed while demanding to speak to Ghana charge d'affaires Nathaniel Welbeck, who left the Congo after the battle. UN Tunisian troops and riot police from Ghana guarded the embassy.

Congolese immigration officer Henri Ngambo and an armed soldier, Pte. Andre Lantrola, accompanied Kokolo on his ill-fated attempt to enter the residence.

"As we came up to the door we were met by a Tunisian lieutenant," Ngambo told reporters from his hospital bed.

"He said the colonel could come in as he was unarmed, but Lantrola and I would have to wait outside. Kokolo insisted on bringing in his escort, and there was an argument.

"Suddenly I heard the lieutenant scream out an order three times. A volley of machine-gun fire hit the colonel across the chest and he fell moaning to the ground."

He said doctors extracted 24 bullets from his legs.

"I'll never be able to use my legs again," he said with tears in his eyes. "What have I done to deserve this?"

Courtroom Charge Sequel to Strike

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — John Royce, 32, charged under two sections of the Canada Shipping Act in connection with a brief seamen's strike earlier this month, was remanded until Dec. 15 when he made a brief court appearance.

Testing To Be Sure

The simple tuberculin test will show if these children have been infected with TB. Even if they are infected, they need never come down with active disease if good health is maintained. Christmas Seal contributions help provide the funds needed for health education and tuberculin testing in the fight to wipe out TB.

Garden Notes

Fruit Here and There

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

It is a peculiar thing, but a fruit tree will often bear a prolific crop in one garden while, in another garden perhaps less than block away, the same variety produces no fruit at all, even though growing strongly and apparently in a healthy condition. There are several possible reasons for this puzzling failure and the first thing to do is to investigate the local climate.

By local climate I don't mean the general weather conditions in and around Victoria. I am talking about the localized conditions at the spot in which the tree is planted—the microclimate, as the experts call it—and this can vary tremendously in a matter of yards. Ideally, these conditions should be looked into before planting your trees.

★ ★ ★

For instance, there are low-lying spots where late frosts during the blossoming period are fairly common—Portage Inlet and Panama Flats are good examples of such frost pockets. Any really cold air drains naturally into these depressions, for cold air seeks its own level, just like water. Fruit blossom is often frosted in such frost-prone localities.

On the other hand, there are exposed positions high on a hilltop which may be swept by those icy winds from the northeast, which so often strike us in the spring. This cold wind also can nip fruit blossom and cause the fruit crop to abort.

The ideal site, to my mind, is a spot perhaps about halfway down a gentle slope to the south. Here there is shelter from the cold northeast wind, while cold air flows right on past to the valley below. It is important in such locations that no hedges or fences impede the free flow of the cold air to the lower levels, otherwise the fruit may suffer.

Mind you, fruit can be grown under conditions far from ideal and sometimes a shift of only a few yards, one way or another, will make all the difference between a bumper crop and no crop at all. Perhaps a small shift in the planting site will bring the tree under the lee of a building or hedge, enough to break the full force of cold winds or to lift the blossom well above the flow of frosty air in its passage to low ground.

Another factor that contributes to poor blossom setting is too much vigor in the tree. Seedling trees, grown from pips, will almost always make too much wood growth at the expense of fruit and come into bearing much later in life than trees which have been grafted on to more suitable roots.

Very often, when investigating the reason for non-fruiting, I find the trouble has been caused by planting the tree too deeply. The tree may have been grafted on to dwarfing or vigor-resisting roots but, when the graft-union is buried, the upper part of the tree will often put out roots of its own. This, in effect, short-circuits the desired effect of the grafted roots.

This fault can be detected by digging around the bole of the tree to expose the bulge of the graft. If roots are found issuing from above the bulge, they must be cut away and enough soil scraped away to keep the graft union well above the soil level. All fruit trees should be planted at the same depth as in the nursery, as indicated by the soil marks on the stem.

'Citadel of Mass Escapism'

I have just come back from Hollywood, that citadel of mass escapism, a community I love and utterly deplore, a nice place to visit, but gee, I'd hate to live there, and a city that is at the end of its tether. Well, one of its tethers.

The motion picture industry as we know it is doomed. Most pictures now lose money. Big pictures like "Spartacus" with immense casts, glowing notices, beautiful girls, and all the other appurtenances which have always made money in the past are going to lose millions. Even "Ben Hur," which was going to roll up a massive fortune, has turned soft.

★ ★ ★

Some pictures like "Psycho" and "The Apartment" make fortunes — but there is no clear rule to draw from them, no guidance for the future. It was thought for a moment that, while the average picture would lose money, the picture—that is with a cast of four or five stars, $10,000,000 to spend—would rescue the industry. But big pictures are losing everyone's shirt, too.

Now we are in the middle or perhaps close to the end of the sexual explosion with multiple adultery, perhaps a little incest and prostitution mixed in. That won't work much longer either.

I think we are seeing a revolution in entertainment and that the movie crowd will find out about it last. Now, the whole industry, what's left of it in the U.S., is getting on its hands, waiting for pay television to rescue it from its deplorable habits. But there is no evidence that pay television is at all imminent in the near future.

Of course, the picture people are now selling escape to the shop-girls on television. That keeps the cameras grinding. Meanwhile, every movie producer in Hollywood is cheerfully willing to push the exhibitor into bankruptcy and spur the day of pay TV.

★ ★ ★

Before we close every picture palace in the country, I think we, the audience, ought to ask ourselves whether we want this to happen. I like movies in theatres. I like the big screen. I like the feeling of mass participation in an emotional experience that you get in a theatre.

I think there may very soon come a time when we will have to rescue the movie theatre as we have rescued museums and opera houses by popular demand and maybe even popular subscription.

★ ★ ★

The audience still exists in America and in Europe. It is not sitting home—at least not all of it—watching television. The American audience is increasingly a quality audience, and it is quite willing to pay its money — but not for Kim Novak. Today Shelley Berman can fill an auditorium easier than John Wayne can fill a theatre with "The Alamo."

Since the war, there has been a cultural explosion — but Hollywood will be the last to know. There are now 1,142 symphony orchestras in the U.S. There are 728 organizations producing opera. There are 5,000 community theatres and 250,000—count 'em— amateur theatrical groups and few of them have nearly as much trouble getting an audience as any movie house. Even lecturers can fill a house more reliably than Marilyn Monroe on film.

★ ★ ★

But the real root of Hollywood's troubles are simply the fact that peoples tastes have changed and diversified and become much more demanding. This is a wonderful thing and its full impact has not even begun to be comprehended — particularly in Hollywood.

People's Tastes Changed But Hollywood's Blind

Hollywood Today — By Sheilah Graham

Mitchum Back in Movies

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Robert Mitchum will be flying here from his horse-breeding farm in Maryland to make his first Hollywood movie since "Home from the Hills" two years ago. "It's called 'The Last Time I Saw Archie'," Bob phoned me, "and I start it December 5 at Republic with Jack Webb and Martha Hyer." Robert's latest picture in Europe, "The Grass is Greener," will be released in December.

★ ★ ★

With so much bad luck following "The Misfits"—Marilyn Monroe's planned divorce from author-husband Arthur Miller, and Clark Gable's death—they should change "Misfits" to "Misfortunes" in the movie title. . . . Eli Wallach, one of the "Misfits" co-stars, told me that Gable, in this movie, taught him little tricks of scene stealing. "If I lean back while you're talking, you'll lose the scene," Gable kidded Eli. Clark didn't, of course.

★ ★ ★

Tony Perkins would be just right for the lead in Jules Dassin's movie version of "The Last of the Just," Andre Schwarz-Bart's best-seller. Or Paul Newman . . . and Otto Preminger sat, proud as a peacock with his wife, mother of twins, at the press showing of "Exodus," a long but very absorbing movie that hews quite closely to the book.

★ ★ ★

Caught two New York play openings last week, each already destined for the screen: "Under the Yum Yum Tree" and "Advise and Consent." And in both plays I strongly disagreed with at least one New York reviewer. For me, there was no "yum yum" under the tree—it would have been thought old-fashioned 20 years ago. But I found "Advise and Consent" fastly paced and full-blooded exciting theatre.

Sir Ralph Richardson, very good as General Sutherland in "Exodus," is frightening his wife in London by riding around town on a motorbike. This form of transportation is also very popular with Paul Newman, Marlon Brando, and was with the late Clark Gable.

★ ★ ★

Theodore Bikelman, a hit with Mary Martin in "Sound of Music," would like some time out to accept a movie job. But his agents haven't yet come up with a suitable replacement for "music." I attended the premiere of this great musical and was amazed to read the mixed reviews on it. That was a year ago, and the Rodgers and Hammerstein Show is still going strong.

★ ★ ★

Fourteen-year-old Hayley Mills, first choice for "Lolita," but her parents wouldn't permit acceptance, will star in the movie version of her mother's novel, "Whistle Down the Wind." I haven't read it, but I'm sure it would please Mr. Clean.

★ ★ ★

Jimmy Shigeta, worried about losing the lead in the film version of "The Flower Drum Song," is breathing easier. MGM has promised he will finish "Bridge to the Sun," with Carroll Baker, by January 31 in time to report for the new movie February 1.

★ ★ ★

The three top Italian actresses do not live in Italy. Gina Lollobrigida has migrated to Canada. Sophia Loren calls Switzerland home. And now Anna Magnani is setting up housekeeping in Paris.

★ ★ ★

What a difference a country makes! Sir Laurence Olivier's film, "The Entertainer," did badly in his native Britain. Very well in the U.S., though.

Dong Wong's Wrong Righted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The wrong done Dong Wong which benefited Ding Wong has been straightened out.

The only way to understand this Chinese puzzle is to wing back in time four years and start at the beginning.

In 1956, a car driven by Ding Wong struck a pedestrian. The man sued and won a $25,000 judgment.

★ ★ ★

The security bank, receiving a court order to turn over the account of "Ding Wong, also known as Dong Wong," gave the injured pedestrian the $2,200 savings of Dong Wong, no relation to the driver in the accident.

Three months ago, Dong, a retired restaurant owner, returned from two years in New York City and went to the bank to withdraw his savings. When he found them gone, he sued the bank.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, Ding, now 73; Dong, now 61; the pedestrian, bank officials and their lawyers met to straighten out the tangle.

The bank admitted its mistake and gave Dong his money with interest and an allowance for lawyers' fees.

Dong promptly opened a new account in the bank.

Potential 'Bungling' In Half U.S. Surgery

MONTREAL (CP)—An American neurosurgeon said Wednesday night 50 per cent of the surgical operations in the United States are performed by doctors who are inadequately trained in surgery.

Dr. Loyal Davis of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., told a meeting at McGill University: "How much of this type of surgery is bungled no one knows and not all of it results in disaster.

Surgeons properly qualified by training and education encounter difficulties in performing operations, but the difference between the qualified and the unqualified man is that the former is able to correct the error."

Plane Rescues Pilot After Copter Crash

PORT ALBERNI — Pilot of a helicopter which crash-landed on Big Interior Mountain, near here Wednesday, has been safely taken from the area by another plane.

A mechanical failure caused the craft to crash-land. There were no injuries. Police in Port Alberni say a mining company for which the helicopter was working effected the rescue.

The pilot was identified as Lloyd Tracy and the company as Kopan Mines.

Jobs Created for 40 Men By Sawmill Shift Addition

YOUBOU—B.C. Forest Products Ltd. said yesterday it will boost employment and production at its main sawmill at Youbou.

At the same time the company said it will stop production at its "pony" mill here —an auxiliary mill used for cutting small logs.

B.C. Forest said it plans to increase the main sawmill operation from a two-shift basis to three shifts a day. This will mean jobs for 52 men. A dozen of the workers will be moved from the "pony" mill to the main operation.

The other 40 vacancies will be filled by former employees of the Vancouver division, recently destroyed by fire, and other company workers affected by recent cutbacks.

A B.C. Forest official said the change results from increased purchase of logs from outside suppliers in the Cowichan area.

He said main reason for the change is to take advantage of better manufacturing facilities in the big mill because of a change in log quality and decreased production costs through a higher rate of production.

The Youbou sawmill is part of the company's integrated operations on Vancouver Island and the mainland which include a plywood plant and sawmill at Victoria, a sawmill at Hammond and a pulp mill at Crofton.

The official said that about 12 of the workmen formerly engaged at Vancouver will be taken into the Youbou operation.

Toss-Up Down Under

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—With fewer really major differences between the policies of the two main parties than in the past, experts are finding the result of New Zealand's general election Saturday difficult to predict.

Both the Labor party, which has held office since 1957, and the National party, which governed the country from 1949 to 1957, are confident of victory.

Social Credit, the third party, which is contesting all 80 seats, is given only the slimmest of chances.

. Both the Labor and National parties have promised reduction in personal income tax, encouragement for farmers and industry, tax deductions for charitable gifts, the introduction of decimal coinage, equal pay for women in the civil service, liquor licensing reform, and encouragement for home ownership.

One difference of emphasis is that the National party favors a minimum of state regulation.

What appeared to be one of the more controversial policy planks, the National party's surprise promise to restore voluntary membership in trade unions, has provoked lively comment, but has not become a major issue.

Prime Minister Walter Nash, the Labor leader, expressed fears the proposal would enable Communists to win control of the labor unions.

Earlier predictions by some politicians, including Keith Holyoake, National party leader, that foreign affairs might become a more important issue in this campaign than previously, have not been fulfilled.

Social Credit, which has yet to win a seat in Parliament, appears to have had little impact in the campaign, though its vote could tip the balance to National or Labor in some marginal seats.

In the last 80-member Parliament, Labor held 41 seats and National 39.

Brewery Suing Farm Couple

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The John Labatt Brewing Co. is suing a farmer, James A. Rhodes, and his wife, for the return of $10,000.

Company officials say the money was advanced to the couple as payment for demonstration of the farmer's claim he had developed a secret method of feeding that would produce 60-pound pigs 56 days after birth. If the demonstration was unsatisfactory, the money was to be returned.

The brewing firm says the formula was not satisfactorily demonstrated and that Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes have refused to return the money.

Arrow Dam Blasted As 'Unjust Proposal'

NAKUSP, B.C. (CP)—Federal and provincial governments in Canada and the United States received strong criticism on High Arrow dam proposals at a meeting here Wednesday.

The meeting was called by the Nakusp chamber of commerce to form a committee to present a brief protesting granting of a licence for the dam by the water comptroller of B.C. if and when such a licence is applied for.

AGREE TO PROTEST

Nearly 40 representatives from Kootenay chambers and municipalities from as far away as Kelowna unanimously agreed to protest.

Most present at the meeting will be directly affected by flooding if the dam is built. All agreed that Mica Creek power and storage dam is "a must" in the development of the Columbia.

Main speaker, F. J. Bartholomew, of Vancouver, B.C., resident professional hydro electrical engineer, said that, "to enter into a treaty which has to be paid on for the next 20 to 30 years is foolish."

He said the High Arrow was an "unjust proposal of no value to U.S." It would "rob us of forests and possibly mines." Its only justification, he said, would be as a power dam rather than a storage dam.

Victoria's Wax Museum in Operation by Spring

Victoria will have a wax museum in operation by early spring, John Steele, 2462 Eastdowne, announced last night.

Mr. Steele, who holds a franchise for the establishment of the museum said definite backing has been arranged and possible sites for the museum are being considered.

"Now we're here, we mean to stay," he said. "We will do all we can to put together a wax museum which we hope will ultimately become famous — perhaps as famous as Madame Tussaud's in London, England."

About 60 life-size figures will be on display when the museum opens—made in England by Josephine Tussaud and Company.

Mr. Steele's partner in the venture is William Emmsan, a retired lumberman from Lethbridge, Alta., who first heard of the museum through a story in the Colonist Nov. 4.

To be named the Royal London Wax Museum, it will be the first of its kind in western North America. The figures will be shipped from London.

About 40 of the 60 wax likenesses of famous people are already made. They include Queen Victoria, United States president-elect Jack Kennedy, Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, King Henry VIII, Queen Elizabeth I and Queen Elizabeth II, Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Cleopatra, John Diefenbaker, Sir James Douglas, Capt. George Vancouver, King Charles I and King George III.

City Buries Arena Issue

Commission Supported By Council

City council yesterday buried the arena controversy and took no chance of losing its arena commissioners.

"I didn't bring my carpet sweeper, and perhaps I should have," said Ald. Elmer McEwen, but he and the rest of the council unanimously voted confidence in the commission.

CHANGED MINDS

Both he and Ald. Hugh Ramsay had planned to call for a public inquiry into the arena situation, but they changed their minds after a suddenly and secretly-called meeting of commissioners and five aldermen Wednesday night which lasted until after midnight.

Aldermen Arthur Dowell, M. H. Mooney, Geoffrey Edgelow, Ramsay and McEwen attended the meeting and Ald. Ramsay said, "There were certainly no holds barred. Everyone let his hair down, and I feel we got to the core of the matter."

EVERY CONSIDERATION

As a result of the meeting, he said, he now felt the six ex-employees, whose rapid-fire resignations led to a closed commission hearing and the resignation of manager Joseph Dukowski, would receive "every consideration" on application for their jobs.

Commissioner Courtney Haddock, he said, had reconsidered quitting the commission over 90 days' continued employment of Mr. Dukowski, and "I think we are all aware of his sincere interest in the employees' side of it."

BEST INTERESTS

This settlement of the conflict, Ald. Ramsay said, would be in the best interests of the taxpayers rather than being faced with the resignation of the commission and staff of the arena "and the chaos that could cause."

Ald. Dowell, who moved the vote of confidence, said he believed the aldermen who attended the Wednesday night meeting "will agree with me the commission has been very fair in the actions it has taken and is being very fair in the actions it is taking at the present time in what they and I feel is in the best interests of working arrangements at the arena."

SECONDED MOTION

Ald. Edgelow seconded the motion, saying he had in mind "the interests of the public, the taxpayers, the users and employees of the arena, the Cougars and all transacting business with the arena."

At the last meeting of council, said Ald. McEwen, "we did not seem to want to put the blame on anyone. But I believe the proper person has accepted the blame and is going to move."

He said the work of the commissioners never received any attention "except at a time like this."

WONDERED WHY

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean wondered why the commission had not reported to council on the situation through council's arena committee.

All he knew about it, he said, he had read in the newspapers, "and I have lived long enough to know that what is in the papers may resemble the true facts and may not."

City Signs to Get Reprieve Till 1968

A proposed sign bylaw which will give owners of existing non-conforming signs eight years to take them down was given preliminary approval yesterday by city council.

The controversial bylaw will come before council for final passage at its next meeting.

The time-limit for non-conforming signs—including all projecting signs in the downtown area—was one of the most hotly contested provisions of the draft bylaw.

EXTENSION OPPOSED

A three-year limit was endorsed by majority opinion at a public hearing, and the Capital Region Planning Board and the city's advisory planning commission opposed extension to eight years.

But spokesmen for sign companies, car dealers, auto courts and an oil company appeared before council to support the eight-year limit and easing of several other restrictions contained in the previous draft.

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean, the alderman chiefly concerned with the framing of the bylaw, said he "certainly would not oppose" a five-year limit, although three years was "a little short to be fair to purchasers" of signs.

THREE YEARS 'PLENTY'

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson called a three-year limit "plenty." A longer limit, she contended, would not be fair to businesses putting up new signs after passage of the bylaw, "when all up and down the street projecting signs would be sticking out so theirs couldn't be seen."

But Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, maintaining that "we must move slowly at a time when business is not too good and the citizens have not been clamoring" for changes in sign regulations, supported the eight-year limit.

Says Council Aspirant:

Proposed Sign Bylaw 'Throws City to Wolves'

Aldermanic candidate Charles Nelles, who listened to council debate yesterday, later described the proposed new sign bylaw as "throwing our city to the wolves."

"Almost every demand of the sign painters and their Vancouver lawyers has been accepted," he said. "Billboards will run wild on every vacant lot. That we are trying to build a dignified, distinctive city is overlooked."

Criminal Negligence Preliminary

Shouted Warning Too Late Before Brothers Crushed

By PETER BRUTON

A witness in Colwood court yesterday described how his shouted warning came too late to save the lives of two brothers who were crushed to death between a wrecker car and a car on the Sooke Road, Oct. 21.

Gerald J. Van Humbeck, a Sooke logger, was testifying at the preliminary hearing of a criminal negligence charge against William John Stewart, 47, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke.

Charge was laid against Stewart following the deaths of brothers Jack and Tom Cameron of Colwood.

'THEY GOT HIT'

"I was standing beside the wrecker . . . " said the witness. "I figured he (Stewart) wasn't going to stop so I hollered. Then that was it. They got hit."

During the hearing, which will resume Dec. 6, evidence was given that Stewart was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident, about 1.15 a.m.

The case is being heard by Magistrate A. I. Thomas. Alan Bigelow is prosecuting and James Proudfoot is appearing for the defence.

GOING HOME

Mr. Van Humbeck said he had been going home from a party earlier that night when he had been blinded by the lights of another car on the Sooke Road near Dewdney Flats. His car had gone into a ditch.

About this time Tom Cameron drove by and stopped. The two men went to Glen Lake and Tom Cameron phoned someone. Shortly after they returned to the scene Tom's brother Jack arrived with the wrecker truck from Cameron's Colwood Royalite Service Station operated by the brothers.

CAR DRAGGED

Mr. Van Humbeck said his car was dragged from the ditch and it was suggested the tow truck take his car back to the service station. The two brothers were starting to hitch the car onto the tow truck when Stewart's car bore down on them.

"They were just bending down to tie the car on when they got hit," said the witness.

INTERNAL INJURIES

The Cameron brothers suffered massive internal injuries when crushed between the tow truck and Mr. Van Humbeck's car.

"I went over to Jack," said the witness. "He just looked like death to me and I just put him down. Tommy was trying to sit up so I went over to him. The wrecker was on his feet so I moved the wrecker off."

HEADLIGHTS ON

At the time of the accident, said the witness, the tow truck had its headlights on and the amber flasher light on the cab roof was also on as well as clearance lights. Later, under cross-examination, Mr. Van Humbeck said he couldn't say for sure that the headlights of the wrecker truck were on but he thought so.

He said the Stewart car piled into the front of the wrecker which was on the wrong side of the road.

Stewart had told him that the wrecker did not have flasher lights working.

"I said: 'They sure are. They're still flashing,'" said the witness. "He didn't answer me. I guess I swore at him or something."

"I suggest to you that you put the headlights on," said Mr. Proudfoot.

"No I didn't. I think they were on," he said.

KEEP HIM CALM

Const. Daniel G. Creally, of Colwood RCMP detachment, said that on his arrival he had considerable difficulty with the accused in trying to keep him calm and out of the road. Stewart had smelled strongly of alcohol.

"He admitted being driver of the car . . . " said the witness, adding that Stewart was subsequently charged with impaired driving.

PASSED TRUCK

He said he had obtained a statement at the scene from Stewart who said he saw what he thought to be a tow truck as he rounded a bend 300 feet from the accident. As he was nearing the truck another car approached from the Sooke direction and passed the truck. Stewart stated he attempted to swerve his car around the truck on the extreme right but hit the front.

Robert David McClure, 2674 Sooke Highway, said he was driving home with a friend when he saw the wrecker and another car on the wrong side of the road. He slowed down and as they were passing his friend urged him to stop.

Two men were lying on the road apparently quite badly hurt, he said. The witness went to phone for the police.

Mr McClure said it took police 25 to 30 minutes to get to the scene. He told defence counsel that he assumed Stewart was under the influence of alcohol.

Joseph R. Barnsley, Sooke Road, said he had been a passenger in Mr. McClure's car and as they passed the scene he had noticed the bodies.

"I walked over to the fellow on the outside of the road to see if he was alive. He was dead. I went back to the other. He was moaning. I went up to a house to get a blanket but I couldn't get one. I phoned the police from there," said the witness.

He testified that Stewart had told him: "One fellow is dead and the other's dying. Let's get them to hospital." The accused had also stated that he was in the right. That the truck had been on the wrong side of the road.

EXCITED MAN

Mr. Barnsley said it was clear that Stewart had been drinking but agreed under cross-examination that the actions of the accused were those of an excited man.

Dr. E. L. McNiven testified that he had examined the accused at Colwood detachment headquarters after the accident and reached the conclusion that Stewart's ability to drive a car was impaired by alcohol.

Demands Too Heavy

Ramsay Has Fill Of Council Job

Pressure of business "in relation to the demands on an alderman" will keep Ald. Hugh Ramsay from seeking re-election Dec. 8, he told city council yesterday.

And he tallied up the demands on an alderman.

In four years, he said, "on strictly city business," he has attended 487 meetings, taking up 1,309 hours, "aside from other activities and research involved."

Mayor Percy Scurrah expressed "a great deal of regret" at Ald. Ramsay's decision.

Victorians Equip Therapy Centre

A physical therapy centre at Soeul in Korea will soon be equipped to provide help for hundreds of handicapped children thanks to the donations of Victorian residents.

Unitarian Services Committee executive director Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova told a public meeting at the Ingraham Hotel last night the centre would soon be completed with money raised in Victoria last year.

She said winter had already started in Korea and appealed for clothing to be sent to the USC to help the needy. She said the group was already behind in shipments.

Blankets were badly needed. Some families with as many as eight members had only a single blanket, she said.

Also in demand were bandages. Dr. Hitschmanova called on people to rip old sheets into strips to supply bandages for the needy.

Her speech was followed by an hour-long film titled "Reach for the Sun."

How Could He Refuse Such 'Official' Garbage

STORIES REVISITED DEPT.: A week or so ago we reported how a husband pressed into service by the Solarium Junior League to bring its mobile trailer back from Goldstream one Sunday had inadvertently collected all the provincial parks branch garbage cans on the assumption that they too belonged to the league.

The cans ended up with the trailer at the home of league publicity officer Audrey Paterson. They were still full of refuse left by people who had gone to see the salmon run.

Not long afterwards, it seems, the local garbage man was in the district and Audrey asked him if he would mind emptying the park branch cans which were alongside her own.

Sure, he said, and went over to the cans.

He gave Audrey a conspiratorial glance when he saw the writing on the side of the cans.

"Don't worry, lady," he whispered. "I never saw the name!"

Mama Wants Mink This Christmas

By GAY PAULEY

A new survey of our shopping habits shows that mamma overwhelmingly wants mink for Christmas.

But the same study shows the average American family spends $147 on Christmas giving, which just about rules out mink for mamma unless it's third hand or just a set of collars and cuffs instead of a coat.

What women listed first in their preferences for Christmas presents ran — quite naturally, I'd say — to costly items — mink coats and jewelry and perfumes, a new car, even a trip.

But those surveyed apparently held slim hope of getting their number one choices, because they very practically listed a bunch of other welcome gifts—mostly items for the home. Twenty-six per cent would be pleased with household goods, 24 per cent listed some item of clothing with sweaters high in the ratings, and five per cent asked for a sewing machine — the one household item most often mentioned.

Major appliance choices ran to refrigerators and dishwashers. In small appliances, the electric mixer was mentioned most frequently.

Other household items on the wanted list included hurricane lamps, furniture covers, records, tablecovers, stereo equipment and electric blankets.

Only two per cent of the women asked for money.

The study, which the makers believe is the first large-scale one in the gift buying field, was done by the market facts research organization, for the Chicago Printed Spring Co., which makes gift wrappings.

The researchers found the average price paid for a Christmas gift is $4.91.

The lady of the house does most of the Christmas shopping for the whole family — 83 per cent of all purchases, says the survey.

The women were pretty positive of what they wanted for Christmas, but 42 per cent didn't know what they would give their husbands.

Supple Fabrics and Lines Keynote of Paris Showings

PARIS (Reuters)—Fashions inspired by supple featherweight fabrics are the keynote of the Paris winter collections.

Every sinuous new silhouette, every bias cut and retrospective effect from the 1930s, has been achieved with fluid fabrics, contoured close to the body and used without stiffening or lining.

This is the basic secret of today's soft new dresses, with their flattering mobile cuts and easy flow.

Lacy new tweed coatings weigh less than eight ounces a yard. Wollen dress fabrics in gauze, organdy and crepe weaves seem as sheer as window curtains and are actually as easy to drape.

These special trends in textiles constitute the very essence of new fashions.

Loosely-woven woolen fabrics for coats, with a hand-knitted or crocheted look, are in the limelight.

At Jacques Heim, there are coatings in lacy patterns with holes large enough to pass a pencil through. At times, knitted tweeds even gate crash into the evening scene in coat and dress ensembles with gold metal threaded into the weave.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 38, self-employed and have been going with a beautiful girl for three years. I want to get married and have a family before I'm too old. She refuses to accept a ring until she gets "a few things out of her system."

One thing I admire about Rosetta is her honesty. She has gone with several men besides me but she always tells me about it. Last year she was seeing a married man. She said she knew it was wrong but it was something she had to do.

At present she's interested (mildly) in a fellow who is seven years younger than she is. She said she's always wanted to date a younger fellow and once she gets tired of him, that'll be it.

Tonight she broke a date on me to go out with this younger fellow. Do you think I should be patient and let her have her fling—or should I have a word with her.—TROUBLED

Dear Troubled: By all means have a word with her—"Goodbye."

Dear Ann: My life would be much happier if my daughter-in-law behaved more like a lady a. 1 less like a leech.

We are not wealthy, although people think we are loaded because I can get more mileage out of a dollar than anyone who ever lived.

When our son Gilbert married Rena we helped them get started. Their home is as nice as ours and their furniture is better. We decided that would be our wedding gift and from then on they were on their own.

Last week my daughter-in-law told me she was pregnant and added "I know you'll want to buy the baby's furniture. We'll pick it out and send you the bill." I was dumbfounded and said nothing. When do children stop chiseling off their parents and in-laws? —DRAINED

Dear Drained: Some never start — depending on how they've been reared, and whether or not it works.

Your answer to Rena should have been, "Go ahead and buy the baby's furniture—and pay for it. We'll decide what we want to give the baby when the time comes." Parents who allow themselves to be drained have themselves to blame.

Dear Ann Landers: For 15 happy years I was married to a fine man and worked with him in business. He passed away last year. I was 42 and I didn't have the heart to run the business alone so I sold it.

I began to look for a job and after 20 interviews I got the idea nobody wants a woman over 40. One employment counsellor told me I could pass for 36, and suggested I lie about my age. I hated the duplicity, but I needed a job and took his advice.

Within a week I had my choice of four fine positions. I'm now executive secretary to a vice-president, and have had two increases in salary in the past 18 months.

I'm now 44 (posing as 38) and my conscience doesn't bother me a bit. What's the matter with industry that they pass up capable women because of age? If there's an explanation from industry I'd like to read it in your column. —HAPPY LIAR.

Dear Happy Liar: So would I. Does anyone in industry have a rebuttal?

Dutch Christmas Bread— An International Treat

Here is a recipe for Dutch Christmas Bread that is made especially for the holiday season in Holland. It is usually served with mid-morning coffee, or in the afternoon with tea or hot chocolate, a favorite beverage of the Dutch. It is also served at lunch during Yuletide, when it becomes the accompaniment to Dutch cheese and spicy sausages.

This Dutch bread actually resembles a fruited, yeast-raised coffee cake. It has an unusual shape because it is traditionally baked in 8-inch cake pans. Raisins, lemon peel, candied citron, and chopped almonds give it a delicious richness; and the icing sugar sprinkled on top adds another festive touch to this holiday specialty. The recipe makes four round loaves which freeze well. As an extra treat, use one of the loaves for breakfast toast, or wrap one up as a Christmas gift for the person "who has everything."

DUTCH CHRISTMAS BREAD

(Yield—Four 8-inch round coffee cakes)

One cup milk, ¾ cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter or margarine, ½ cup lukewarm water, 2 teaspoons granulated sugar, 2 envelopes active dry yeast, 4 well-beaten eggs, 6½ cups (about) pre-sifted all-purpose flour, 1 cup seedless raisins, ½ cup chopped citron peel, ¾ cup chopped blanched almonds, 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind, melted butter or margarine, icing sugar.

Scald milk; stir in the ¾ cup granulated sugar, salt and 1 cup butter, or margarine.

Meantime, measure lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in the 2 teaspoons granulated sugar. Sprinkle with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, well-beaten eggs and 3 cups of the flour; beat until smooth and elastic. Mix in raisins, citron peel, almonds and lemon rind. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a very soft dough—about 3½ cups more. Place dough in 4 greased 8-inch round layer-cake pans and pat out with floured hands. Cover with a tea towel. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1¾ hours. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F) until nicely browned —20 to 25 minutes. Turn out of pans and cool on cake racks. When cool, brush tops with a little melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with sifted icing sugar.

King's Fiancee Known As Shy But Intelligent

MADRID (Reuters)—"Quiet as a mouse but extremely intelligent," is how a close friend described th shy Spanish woman who is to become queen of Belgium.

"She always takes a backseat at any gathering," added a priest who knows her well.

Dona Fabiola Mora, the 32-year-old fiance of King Baudouin, belongs to a little-known, but wealthy, aristocratic family. On her mother's side, particularly, her noble lineage runs far back.

Behind her shy facade, however, is a woman of determination, and discretion. The news of the engagement was kept as close a secret as was that of Princess Margaret to Antony Armstrong-Jones.

And, says Fabiola's sister, the Countess Maria Saltes, "she made her decision entirely on her own. Not even our mother knew of it until Fabiola had made her mind up to accept the king's offer of marriage."

The couple probably met in the home of 72-year-old former Queen Victoria Eugenia of Spain, who in 1906 was welcomed by Spaniards as "the English rose," when the blonde beauty came to the Spanish capital to wed King Alfonso XIII. Fabiola and her mother both frequently visited the elderly queen.

Although she had at least one previous suitor, a Spanish aristocrat, Fabiola preferred to wait until she met her ideal man.

"The man I marry," she told friends, "must be both a hard worker and religious in character."

According to Countess Saltes, "She is madly in love with Baudouin."

In recent months, Fabiola has lost about five pounds — she usually weighs about 123 pounds—because she was worried about the responsibility which she would have to assume.

Her best friend and sister-in-law, Pilar Sastago, when asked how she reacted when Fabiola confided her secret to her, said; "I saw Fabiola so full of hope and so deeply in love that all I could do was to pray that she would enjoy the happiness she deserves."

"The king is a wonderful person. You just cannot imagine how wonderful he is," Fabiola told one of here sisters after the announcement.

Although shy, Fabiola can be surprisingly gay when with her family or among friends. She is rarely seen at any social function in Madrid. But she liked to dance with her brothers and sisters when they were all young together. She plays the piano well and also the guitar, and likes to sing flamenco songs typical of Seville.

She loves children and spends much of her time with her 31 nephews and nieces, aged from 15 years to one month, the children of her six brothers and sisters. Her education has been sporadic — the only school to which she went for any length of time was in Switzerland — but constant travel and long spells of residence abroad have given her a cosmopolitan background.

London Goes Silky

LONDON (Reuters) — The "London Look" for spring, shown to overseas fashion buyers by 27 leading British manufacturers, is one that will keep the world's silkworms busy.

The 27 members of the Fashion House Group of London, used silk in all weights from chiffon to heavy Ottoman, plain or pringed.

As far as line was concerned, most houses played it safe and wearable, with the waistline in the natural place.

But one firm specializing in the young and gay, which exports to 50 countries, had its mannequins doing the Charleston in waistless middy blouses and pleated skirts.

Sleeves on coats and suits were three-quarter length, sometimes shaped like an inverted cone, belling out gently from the shoulder line. Suit jackets were hip-bone-length and loose, or lightly fitted.

The London Look, as seen in the show, features lots of white and off-white for spring, with a wide range of yellows—lemon, mimosa and mustard — and pinks, a certain amount of brown and a revived interest in navy blue.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By HELEN R. HEWSON

One mother writes in distress, "Our little boy, not quite three, has always been a cheerful, friendly little chap.

"Recently he has become less friendly. He meets strangers and visitors to our home reluctantly. If we suggest that he say, How do you do, he may turn his back or walk out of the room.

"What can we do to help him feel more at ease with strangers?"

Parents can do much for a child, in fact there is no one who can do more to encourage his growth and development.

★ ★ ★

But there is one thing they cannot do. They cannot do his growing up, not just his growth in size, but growth in what he can do and how he can do it. This he must do for himself.

As he grows in skill and understanding he will have many periods of uncertainty when he is unsure of himself and others.

Between the ages of two and three the child becomes aware of himself as a person, separate and apart from others.

During this process of learning "I am me," he must also learn that there are limits to where he may go and what he may do. This means that he will hear. "No, do this, not that," many times during the day.

★ ★ ★

He begins to learn that the world is not the sure, safe place of babyhood, that the people in it are not always pleased with him.

He begins to feel a little uncertain of his recently discovered self, and this uncertainty is reflected in his response to others.

If the adults in his life continue to be friendly and do not insist on too much formality, his self-confidence will grow.

Shumiatcher Hearing Told:

If You Can't Evade Say You Forget

REGINA (CP)—Saskatoon car salesman Al Boechler said Thursday he evaded some questions at a Saskatchewan securities commission 1958 inquiry and answered others untruthfully.

A former salesman of shares in Columbia Metals Exploration Co. of Saskatoon, he was giving evidence at the preliminary hearing of Regina lawyer Dr. M. C. Shumiatcher on 11 charges of counselling in perjury in connection with the 1958 securities commission inquiry.

Dr. Shumiatcher Tuesday elected trial by judge without jury. The hearing is expected to last 10 days or more.

EMPLOY COUNSEL

Edward Leier, a former Luboff bond salesman, said before going to the securities commission inquiry in 1958 Luboff told him to get in touch with all the salesmen two days before the hearing and to get them to employ counsel.

He said Dr. Shumiatcher was the counsel suggested.

Leier said they agreed the following day to use Dr. Shumiatcher as counsel after he said Luboff agreed to pay his fees.

'HURT SHAREHOLDERS'

"He told the salesmen and myself it wasn't going to do any good involving Luboff as it would hurt our shareholders.

"We asked if there were questions about specific deals how would we answer them and so on.

"Shumiatcher said if we couldn't evade a question or give a direct answer you can never be prosecuted for not remembering."

Police Pay Increase Recommended in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters)—A pay increase was recommended yesterday for England's policemen in an interim report published by a royal commission.

The commission recommended that a policeman's pay start at £600 ($1,650) a year, instead of the present £510. It also favored raising the maximum salary to £910 from £695 after nine years' service.

Diplomat Won't Complain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — British diplomat Frederick de Moleyns has been more than sporting about his troubles with American teen-age thieves.

He shrugs it off with British aplomb as merely the "luck of the draw—just one of those things."

But the local police are alarmed and embarrassed, to say the least. Teen-age thieves have entered his fashionable Georgetown home "three or four" times and carted off loot valued at more than $5,000.

De Moleyns lives on the "best-policed street in town"—in the same block with Supreme Court Justices William Brennan Jr. and Felix Frankfurter.

Despite the present of a nearby police station, thieves in the past have also stolen all of de Moleyn's suits and all of the clocks in the house.

But the diplomat says he doesn't want to "raise a fuss with the police."

In fact, he said, he thought it was "really quite something" the way police fished his stolen watch out of a sewer.

Mrs. de Moleyns, who once had a purse stolen while shopping here, said, "We are tremendously impressed with your police here. And we just adore America. But aren't the teen-agers just maddening?"

SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available — a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, light weight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood. It is very easily worked, is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently, and is superior for gluing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING CHARACTERISTICS

Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING QUALITIES

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly used soft woods— another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ◇	Pass
3 ◇	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ◇	Pass	5 ◇	All Pass

Opening lead: ♠ 10

Making things easier for partner and more difficult for the opponents are twin virtues of the best bridge players. In today's deal, East's play might have beaten declarer; failure to make the play would have given South a free ride.

No one could have blamed South if he had bid to a diamond slam on the combined cards, but South had a hunch about the hand and decided to settle for game.

If West's spade ten had not been overtaken by East's jack, declarer could have safely let him hold the lead. But East knew that his partner held no more than two spades (else he'd have led a low one) so he overtook on the chance that the ten was a singleton. Now South faced a headache: East might have started with a six-carder, in which case West would ruff the spade continuation. Then, if the trump king were off-side, declarer would go down. But this combination appeared less likely to South than the actual layout, so he ducked the first spade.

Declarer won the second spade and led a heart to dummy's king. He then took the diamond finesse which lost to West's king. But West was out of spades, and after drawing the rest of the trumps, declarer had no trouble ditching his losing spade on dummy's long club. If South had taken the first spade, he would have been beaten. Oh yes, no trump would have been a superior contract, but surely South had to make a slam try by cue-bidding spades and this made it difficult for North-South to play at three no trump.

New Airliner Will Hit 640 MPH

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. Wednesday announced completion of a new jet airliner designed to cut 45 minutes from transcontinental flight time.

The company said the 139-foot-long Convair 990 will cruise at 640 miles an hour, 25 mph faster than the smaller Convair 880, which the firm calls the fastest jet on commercial routes.

The speed thus would be just below that of sound — 660 mph at high altitudes.

They will carry from 96 to 121 passengers.

Old Torch Marks City Gas Milestone

An anniversary torch commemorating the 100th year of the Victoria Gas Co. was lighted in downtown Victoria this week.

Alexander Smith, 1604 Jubilee Avenue, longest service employee in the 100-year-old company, set the torch alight.

One of the originals with which the gas lamplighters of the 1860s "turned on" the gas lights of early Victoria, the torch has been installed on an exterior wall of the B.C. Electric building at Blanshard and Pandora as part of a program of centennial recognition of the gas company, oldest existing company incorporated in B.C.

The B.C. Electric assumed responsibility for the gas company in 1905, taking over the original documents of land transfer, shareholder list, incorporation and other records.

These papers carrying the signatures of such historic figures as Sir James Douglas, John Work, Donald Fraser and J. D. Pemberton are on display in the Pandora Avenue window of the B.C. Electric, in the foreground of a typical home of 100 years ago.

$3,000,000

American Buys KVOS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Television station KVOS in Bellingham, Wash., has been sold to Florida interests for $3,000,000 cash.

Wometco Enterprises, Inc., of Miami, which operates television stations, theatres, an indoor playland, vending machines and a soft drink franchise in the Bahamas, said Tuesday that negotiations for the purchase of KVOS have been completed.

Mitchell Wolfson, Wometco president, told shareholders that Channel 12 earned in excess of $400,000 after taxes in 1959 and earnings for 1960 are running at a comparable rate.

Earlier this month, Frank Griffiths, president of Radio NW Ltd., of New Westminster, B.C., and George Kinnear of Seattle, started suit in a Washington court against Mr. and Mrs. Rogan Jones, claiming they had a prior deal to purchase KVOS.

Wometco said it had negotiated a loan with Prudential Insurance Co. for $2,000,000 to finance part of the purchase of KVOS.

Leaflets Showered Down At von Braun Film Premiere

LONDON (Reuters) — Demonstrators showered anti-Nazi leaflets from the balcony of a movie theatre Thursday night as diplomats, film stars, executives and scientists awaited the British premier of "I Aim for the Stars"—the life story of German-born rocket scientist Wernher von Braun.

Leaflets saying "the showing of the von Braun film makes a mockery of the tributes to our fallen dead" showered down.

The leaflets asked the public not to forget the 6,000 injured and 3,000 killed by German wartime flying bombs on which von Braun worked.

No arrests were made.

Perishables Barred If Strike Imminent

MONTREAL (CP)—A CNR official said yesterday embargoes will be placed on freight shipments of livestock and perishable goods if a nation-wide strike of non-operating employees called for Dec. 3 appears imminent.

The official said the embargoes will be announced in plenty of time to protect shippers if the strike appeared to be unavoidable.

Both the CNR and CPR have making advance preparations for the strike, but have delayed official announcements of measures until all avenues for averting the walkout have been exhausted.

To be known as the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, the new institution transforms the existing Organization for European Economic Co-operation into something roughly parallel with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Every Shot Will Help 500 Fund Help the Needy

With every squeeze of the trigger at the Victoria Gun Club annual benefit shoot next month, marksmen will be helping the 500 most needy families who benefit from The Daily Colonist Christmas Fund.

The club is aiming at a target of $500 for the fund.

Marksmen will be shooting for turkeys and hams during the event and each crack of the rifle will help boost the amount for the needy.

In addition there is always the sporting chance the marksmen will provide meat for their own table at Christmas.

The shoot will be held at the gun club's rifle range at Albert Head Dec. 17 and 18.

You don't have to be a Wyatt Earp or Matt Dillon to bring home a prize. Special classes for novices are provided. Non-marksmen who consider themselves lucky to hit the target background will be placed with others in the same bracket.

Cash donations for the fund are continuing to come in at a steady rate.

Donations may be mailed or brought to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund, 2631 Douglas Street or left at the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

Donors are asked to specify whether they want their names published with their donations.

Bouncing Baby Boy Born to Kennedy

PRESIDENT-ELECT KENNEDY and WIFE JACQUELINE
. . . second child for first family

Mother Child Fine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy's wife gave birth early today to a healthy and "beautiful" six-pound, two-ounce boy after a dramatic ambulance dash to Georgetown University Hospital.

Delivery was by caesarean section. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the baby were described as doing fine.

NOT EXPECTED

The baby had not been expected for another three weeks.

Sen. Kennedy was notified by radio of the birth of his first son and second child 15 minutes after he took off from Palm Beach, Fla., to fly to his wife's side.

SENATOR HAPPY

His press secretary said "the senator was happy" about the birth but would make no personal statement until he had a chance to see his wife and child because he was concerned about them.

The baby was born at 12.22 a.m. EST. Mrs. Kennedy arrived at the hospital at 10.55 p.m., and was immediately taken to an operating suite.

Mrs. Gladys Uhl, Jacqueline Kennedy's press secretary, said she had seen the new baby and "he looks beautiful."

WIGGLING A BIT

She said the baby was "wiggling a little bit," and it seemed to have a "little dark hair."

The Kennedys had said in advance they planned to name the child John F. Kennedy Jr. if it were a boy.

A caesarean delivery had been planned for the child. This was the same method of delivering a baby by surgery used for the birth of the Kennedy's first child, Caroline.

WITH HER

With her at the hospital was Dr. John Walsh, who is attached to the staff of the hospital and is one of Washington's leading obstetricians.

As soon as Mrs. Kennedy entered the hospital, Dr. Walsh started delivery preparations.

Mrs. Kennedy was wheeled in through the hospital's emergency room. An intern said, "she was beautiful, even in the throes of labor." A nurse said "she looked lovely."

COMMONS UNITES TO PUSH HOUSING

New Jobs Target Of Bill

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons last night unanimously approved in principle the federal government's wide-ranging housing legislation after Public Works Minister David J. Walker predicted that every Canadian family would live in a new house after 22 years of Conservative rule.

The bill aims at reducing unemployment through a big dose of government assistance to stimulate housing construction. It also provides for federal assistance to municipalities in the construction of sewage-disposal plants and loans to universities for student residences.

OFTEN ROWDY

Walker wound up an often rowdy debate on second reading of the housing bill with the claim that history would show "it was the Tory government that gave modern housing to the Canadian people."

The government insisted on a recorded vote on the second reading stage which resulted in a unanimous 155-to-0 roll call.

BOTH SIDES

The debate featured charges and counter-charges of filibustering from both sides of the House, and a call on the government to resign from a Liberal member.

Walker, who called the legislation "one of the greatest pieces of legislation ever introduced in the House of Commons," predicted that "if we're in power for 22 years, every Canadian family will live in a new house."

KILL INCENTIVE

He rejected opposition requests for a reduction in the interest rate on federally-approved housing loans and said such action would kill incentive of lenders. He promised, however, that action to reduce the interest rate would be taken when appropriate.

Paul Hellyer (L—Trinity) said the government had "dramatically exaggerated" the possible effect of the legislation which he described as "a deathbed repentance" of the Conservative government.

J. R. Garland (L—Nipissing), the party's housing critic, scored the plan as "too little, too late" to help substantially in battling winter unemployment.

Football Stars Bow to Beauty

China 'No. 1 Threat' But Can't Be Ignored

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday named Red China as the No. 1 threat to world peace and said a "realistic review" of relations with that country was mandatory.

The prime minister also indicated a decision on nuclear weapons for Canadian forces is months, if not years, away. If one had to be made, "we shall not consider nuclear weapons until we have equality in control, a joint control over them."

Canada in the past has steadfastly opposed the seating of Red China in the United Nations. But yesterday Mr. Diefenbaker said:

"So vast and numberless a people cannot be ignored. The world is too interlocked with its common dangers to exclude almost one-quarter of the human race from the areas of major political settlement."

Mr. Diefenbaker, in a general review of Canada's foreign policy, said the declarations of Red China's leaders cast a "frightening shadow of fear" over mankind.

"Their views are frightening and the necessity of realistic review of the situation becomes necessary and mandatory," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker also urged an early heads-of-state meeting of the 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Oorganization. He stressed that arrangements must be made to ensure that the economies of some members would not be weakened by actions of other members.

Legislators of NATO Favor Nuclear Force

PARIS (Reuters)—Legislators from member nations of the Atlantic pact voiced support Thursday for the proposal to arm NATO countries with nuclear weapons.

Some dissent went on record but most speakers at the NATO conference backed the plan as put to them by U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe.

Tire Yourself Out Heart Expert Says

LONDON (Reuters) — Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, Thursday advised a life-long program of vigorous exercise as a preventive measure against heart disease.

He told 700 persons attending a one-day conference here that regular exercise must start before middle age "because it is in the 40s and 50s that so many heart attacks of the type of coronary thrombosis occur."

"I am quite certain that the best antidote for nervous strain, tension and insomnia, is physical fatigue," Dr. White said.

'Put Your Feet Up'

LONDON (Reuters) — Middle-aged persons were advised Thursday that after lunch and dinner to "put your feet up, shut your eyes and smile."

The advice came from a leading British surgeon, who said he did not want reporters to use his name, speaking at a one-day conference on the health of executives.

"Once you reach middle age there is much to be said for taking 40 winks" after meals, and half-days off from work for a hobby such as golf.

Jobless Moral Defeat

TORONTO (UPI)—Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, warned last night that a failure to defeat unemployment will be an admission to newly-emerging nations that the Communist system is more workable than the democratic one.

China's Atom Claim Worries Khrushchev

LONDON (AP) — Allied diplomats reported Thursday night that Communist China claims it can become a nuclear power soon and even Premier Khrushchev is worried.

They said the boast was made by President Liu Shao-chi of Red China at the Communist summit conference in Moscow.

This claim, coupled with Peking's public demands for a tougher policy by Communists everywhere, has alarmed Khrushchev and other Communist leaders, the diplomats said.

Allied sources believe Khrushchev fears a China so armed might shake off Soviet restraint and embark on ventures that would imperil world peace.

'Battle of Century' Seen To Depose Liberal Chief

OTTAWA (UPI) — Public Works Minister David J. Walker last night said the Liberal party was set for "a tremendous battle of the century" in attempts to depose Lester Pearson from party leadership.

Walker was commenting in the House of Commons on a testimonial dinner in Windsor, Ont., last night honoring prominent Liberal and former cabinet minister Paul Martin for his 25 years in public life.

"Tonight in the city of Windsor," said Walker, "the leadership of the Liberal party is at stake.

"There is a tremendous battle of the century now pending in the Liberal party by those who want to replace the leader of the opposition," he added.

He cited Martin, former Liberal works minister Robert Winters, and former transport minister Lionel Chevier as prospects to succeed Pearson.

Walker jeered at Chevrier and said, "I think he can arrange a testimonial dinner for himself."

Indians to Sue B.C. for $100,000

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Kitwanga band of the Skeena River Indian agency plans to sue the provincial government for $100,000 and prosecute Highways Minister Gaglardi for trespassing.

Delegates to the 28th annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia were told that the highways department has no right to build four miles of highway through the eastern section of the Kitwanga reserve.

The band seeks $100,000 in damages and the maximum penalty of a $50-fine and 30 days in jail for Mr. Gaglardi. Indian Commissioner Frank E. Anfield told the meeting that the Indian Affairs Branch had not given permission for the work but had been offered first $482 in compensation and later $6,000.

Both offers were rejected by the Kitwanga people.

Chief Richard Morgan of the Kitwangas told the convention that Deputy Highways Minister Miard had arranged to meet the band council Dec. 1 for further discussion of the problem.

The convention voted to back the Kitwangas in its fight.

Eskimos' Fishing Trip Big Success

Rider-Eskimo Clash Far from Dull

Telegram News Service

There is the impression afoot that Ottawa Rough Riders and Edmonton Eskimos are heading into one of history's dullest Grey Cup games.

Basis for this fear is the great similarity between the Riders and Eskimos. Both are built on those safe but moribund football principles—defence and ball control.

In the sometimes brash opinion of this observer this forced meeting will not provide the dull affair that the Argonaut-Bomber clan fears.

Au contraire. Peeps expects quite a fine and stirring game in Empire Stadium on Saturday.

For one thing both the Eskimos and Riders pass a little more than their critics really admit. Not better—just more.

For another, the Eskimos have never been a dud in the Grey Cup game despite their Drive Series offence and their hard-rock defence.

Here is the Sam Peeps' Grey Cup scouting report:

Ottawa: Running Offence: Based on the Iowa Wing-T attack. Dave Thelen between the tackles, Ron Stewart on sweeps and reverses. Russ Jackson on options and keepers give it variety. Joe Kelly has come on in late season as runner and passer. The wide offtackle is his best move and Raffles is good at it.

* * *

Passing Offence: Physically Jackson can throw well. Trouble is he prefers to run. Opposition defences know this. As a result Jackson's option efficiency is no longer what it should be. Ron Lancaster is a hot-cold passer prone to interceptions. The roll-out pass is his best play. The sideline to Bob Simpson is Ottawa's bread-and-butter pass play.

* * *

Rushing Defence: Ottawa has one weakness which Edmonton is certain to find and exploit. Jim Reynolds, the left end, likes to play loose and charge. If he tries this on the Esks he'll find J. Parker whizzing past on Edmonton's pet option play.

Ottawa's standard defence has been 5-3-4. Riders will have to shift to a 5-4-3 to counter the Eskimos running game and this will create some personal problems since Ron Koes is Ottawa's only hefty inside linebacker.

* * *

Pass Defence: Excellent Riders have edge here. Joe Poirier can be fooled into coming up so that you can throw over him and George Brancato has some trouble covering tall receivers. Ottawa rushes well and Lou Bruce is one of the finest defensive ends in football, a rusher and a tackler.

* * *

Edmonton: Running Offense: Hasn't changed basically since Pop Ivy put in the twin fullback system in 1955. And Johnny Bright and Norm Kwong are still at it, Kwong crashing the centre, Bright offtackle and both faking to set up Parker on his roll-out plays. Esks use halfbacks Joe-Bob Smith and Cowboy Woodruff as blockers and receivers. They hardly ever carry the ball.

Parker is the man who must be stopped. And no one has really done it in seven years. Watch right tackle Roger Nelson block. He is great.

* * *

Passing Offense: Amounts to Parker rolling into the flat and pitching short to his backs or to right end Jim Letcavits. Sometimes Parker will fake right, bootleg left and pitch to Tommy-Joe Coffey on the other side. And sometimes he'll throw deep, usually with only the prime receiver downfield. Since Eskimos' passing is based on Parker's rollout play, he must be contained. Don Getty is a good drop-back passer and Parker a fine receiver when Esks make this switch.

* * *

Rushing Defence: Beyond doubt, the best in the country, it will be pointless for Ottawa to try and crack Edmonton between the tackles. But the flanks afford some promise although Ed Gray, the right end, is a dandy.

Al Ecuyer, the defensive guard, is tops. Nat Dye and Toby Deese are first-year imports in the Eskimo tradition of big hard-hitters. Jim Toon plays if anyone is hurt.

* * *

Pass Defense: Argonaut passing would rip this apart but Argonauts are not in the game. Ottawa can still do it provided Frank Clair lets Lancaster and Jackson open up early. Passing is Ottawa's chance to win. Eskimos play a standard 5-4-3, with Billy Smith, Oscar Kruger and Howie Schumm deep. Rollie Miles, the great veteran, drops back should a four-man umbrella be needed.

All the Eskimos tackle hard and accurately, pursue well and charge. The umbrella can be punctured on hooks and bend-ins over centre where Ted Tully and Gino Fracas are a trifle slow and unused to covering. But Ottawa hasn't shown much of this type of pass attack.

Fight to Finish if Tied

VANCOUVER (CP)—Overtime will be played until a winner is decided if Saturday's Ottawa-Edmonton Grey Cup final is tied after the regulation 60 minutes, says football commissioner G. Sydney Halter.

If fog rolls in, the game will be postponed until Sunday "or any subsequent day" until conditions are favorable.

The subject was brought up after three days of intermittent rain. The long-range forecast is for continued unsettled weather and possibly rain on Saturday and the forecaster said fog "is extremely unlikely."

If overtime is needed Rough Riders and Eskimos would have a 10-minute rest period after regulation time. Then they would play two 10-minute halves until the issue was decided, the teams changing ends after each 10 minutes with no rest period.

Ottawa Older, Bigger in Front Line

Ottawa Rough Riders and Edmonton Eskimos average out to about 25½ years, but there is a difference. The Riders have a youthful backfield working behind a veteran line while the Eskimos have a more veteran backfield and a younger line.

With seven backs either 23 or 22 years old, Riders have a big edge in backfield youth over the Eskimos, who have such veterans as 31-year-old Rollie Miles, 29-year-old Johnny Bright, 29-year-old Normie Kwong and 28-year-old Jackie Parker.

By comparison, Ottawa quarterbacks Ron Lancaster and Russ Jackson are 22 and 23 respectively. Halfback Joe Kelly and fullback Dave Thelen are 23 and halfback Ron Stewart is 25. In the line, however, the Esks average almost two years per man less than the Riders.

VAST DIFFERENCE

Although the backfielders and ends are almost exactly even as regards heft, there is a vast difference, in Ottawa's favor, in the bulk of the linesmen.

Edmonton has nothing to match Riders' five huge tackles—the 275-pound Tom "Emperor" Jones, the 270-pound Angelo Mosca, the 250-pound Giles Archambault, the 245-pound Milt Graham and the 235-pound Moe Racine. And there's a difference, too, at guard, where Fred Robinson and Sam Scoccia, both at 240 pounds, outweight anything that Edmonton has.

Jammed Detroit Rink As Red Wings Grab First Place in NHL

Detroit Red Wings rewarded the largest hockey crowd in Olympia Stadium—15,859 screaming fans—by taking the National Hockey League lead Thursday with a 3-1 victory over the defending-champion Montreal Canadiens.

Defeat dropped the Canadiens into a third-place tie with Toronto when the Maple Leafs were beaten, 2-1, in Chicago by the Black Hawks.

	P	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Detroit	22	11	7	4	72	65	26
Chicago	21	10	6	5	62	54	25
Montreal	21	10	7	4	73	69	24
Toronto	21	10	7	4	65	51	24
New York	21	7	13	1	68	84	15
Boston	22	4	12	6	60	77	14

Last night's scores: Montreal 1 at Detroit 3; Toronto 1 at Chicago 2, New York 5 at Boston 3.

Next games: tomorrow—Chicago at Montreal; Detroit at Toronto.

About the only disappointment for Detroit's fans was the failure of Gordie Howe to get his 1,000th league point. Rookies Howie Glover and Al Johnson, both one-time Western Hockey League players, and veteran Alex Delvecchio did the Detroit scoring as Howe was held pointless.

MOORE SCORES 20

Dickie Moore became the first player to get 20 goals this season when he scored Montreal's only goal early in the third period.

A big star in the Detroit victory was Hank Bassen, all-star Western Hockey League goalkeeper last season. He stopped Canadiens several times on close-in drives and probably swung the decision when he made three or four fine saves in rapid succession as Montreal put on a jamming attack late in the second period.

Home ice again proved beneficial for the Hawks, who have yet to lose in 11 games played before their own fans.

BOWER SHINES

They got quite a tussle from the ambitious Leafs, who again got standout goaling from ageless Johnny Bower. Murray Balfour got the winner in the second minute of the third period, tipping in a lateral shot made by linemate Billy Hay.

Ron Murphy scored for Chicago in the first period and George Armstrong tied it in the second period while Hawks were playing two men short.

Extra entertainment came midway through the final 20 minutes with a widespread difference of opinion which ended with Bob Baun of the Leafs getting minor and major penalties and Bert Olmstead of the Leafs and Ab McDonald and Eric Nesterenko of the Hawks getting major penalties.

In last night's other game, New York Rangers made it two over Boston in two nights and moved out of the cellar, now occupied by the Bruins.

Andy Bathgate, who scored three goals in Wednesday's win, added two more last night, his 13th and 14th of the season. Johnny Wilson also got two but goalkeeper Lorne Worsley cut himself a share of the credit by making 34 stops against a Boston team which has lost three in a row and seven of its last eight.

Beats Gutoski

Naimark Rink Still to Lose

VANCOUVER — Barry Naimark's stacked rink on which the 1959 B.C. champion is playing third rocks spent almost all day Thursday on the ice but couldn't be headed off and went into the final day of the Totem Bonspiel as the only undefeated quartet in the record 212 which started play last Sunday.

Another tough hurdle was cleared Thursday evening when Naimark's foursome, skipped by Herbie Olson of Edmonton, knocked Victoria's Tony Gutoski out of the Totem Event, the No. 1 primary which Gutoski won in the first Totem Bonspiel in 1955.

Final score was 8-4 with the winners pretty well in charge from the start.

Bill Allan of Olds, Alta., and veteran Fred Tinling of Vancouver both fell out of the unbeaten class Wednesday and were left in one of the primary events.

Several powerful rinks, including Roy Vinthers' Vancouver entry and Matt Baldwin's Edmonton aggregation, were moving along in two secondary events and faced with considerable curling tomorrow, when the bonspiel ends.

Gutoski and Glen Harper of Duncan, current B.C. champion, were left from the nine rinks entered from Vancouver Island.

Harper moved on in the Evergreen event, the No. 2 primary, with victories over Stan Szabo of Mission City and Aubrey Neff of Vancouver. Gutoski won twice in the Fraser event.

ELIMINATED

Gordie Moore of Victoria was eliminated through losses to Arden Brown of Vancouver and Dave Dunn of Nanaimo. Elmer Hoffman of Victoria lost his last chance last night when he took a 10-4 thumping from Lyle Reichert of New Westminster. Also sidelined were Jack Moir and Bob Siddall of Victoria, Harry Spottiswood of Port Alberni, Dunn and Brock Wilson of Nanaimo.

Heber Seller of Victoria was eliminated from the two-event veterans' bonspiel.

Who Wants Cup Tickets?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Grey Cup tickets? They're easy.

British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union put 1,300 on public sale Thursday morning. Early Thursday night general manager Herb Capozzi of the Lions said they had "about 1,000 tickets left."

Packers' Plans Given Jolt

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Ninowski swept the title-hopeful Green Bay Packers off their feet with a devastating first-half passing attack that started Detroit Lions toward a 23-10 victory Thursday in the National Football League's annual Thanksgiving Day clash.

The defeat seriously crippled Green Bay's western division title chances. Trailing division-leading Baltimore by one game going into the contest, the Packers now have dropped into third place behind Chicago Bears.

Calgary After Grey Cup

CALGARY (UPI)—The Calgary delegation to the Western Interprovincial Football Union meeting in Vancouver was expected to make a bid for the 1962 Grey Cup game.

McMahon Stadium now has a seating capacity of 20,000 between the goal lines and an additional 15,000 seats could be installed without difficulty if the application is successful.

Victoria's Wax Museum in Operation by Spring

Victoria will have a wax museum in operation by early spring, John Steele, 2462 Eastdowne, announced last night.

Mr. Steele, who holds a franchise for the establishment of the museum said definite backing has been arranged and possible sites for the museum are being considered.

"Now we're here, we mean to stay," he said. "We will do all we can to put together a wax museum which we hope will ultimately become famous —perhaps as famous as Madame Tussaud's in London, England."

About 60 life-size figures will be on display when the museum opens—made in England by Josephine Tussaud and Company.

Mr. Steele's partner in the venture is William Enman, a retired lumberman from Lethbridge, Alta., who first heard of the museum through a story in the Colonist Nov. 4.

To be named the Royal London Wax Museum, it will be the first of its kind in western North America. The figures will be shipped from London.

About 40 of the 60 wax likenesses of famous people are already made. They include Queen Victoria, United States president-elect Jack Kennedy, Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, King Henry VIII, Queen Elizabeth I and Queen Elizabeth II, Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Cleopatra, John Diefenbaker, Sir James Douglas, Capt. George Vancouver, King Charles I and King George III.

City Buries Arena Issue

Commission Supported By Council

City council yesterday buried the arena controversy and took no chance of losing its arena commissioners.

"I didn't bring my carpet sweeper, and perhaps I should have," said Ald. Elmer McEwen, but he and the rest of the council unanimously voted confidence in the commission.

CHANGED MINDS

Both he and Ald. Hugh Ramsay had planned to call for a public inquiry into the arena situation, but they changed their minds after a suddenly and secretly-called meeting of commissioners and five aldermen Wednesday night which lasted until after midnight.

Aldermen Arthur Dowell, M. H. Mooney, Geoffrey Edgelow, Ramsay and McEwen attended the meeting and Ald. Ramsay said, "There were certainly no holds barred. Everyone let his hair down, and I feel we got to the core of the matter."

EVERY CONSIDERATION

As a result of the meeting, he said, he now felt the six ex-employees, whose rapid-fire resignations led to a closed commission hearing and the resignation of manager Joseph Dukowski, would receive "every consideration" on application for their jobs.

Commissioner Courtney Haddock, he said, had reconsidered quitting the commission over 90 days' continued employment of Mr. Dukowski, and "I think we are all aware of his sincere interest in the employees' side of it."

BEST INTERESTS

This settlement of the conflict, Ald. Ramsay said, would be in the best interests of the taxpayers rather than being faced with the resignation of the commission and staff of the arena "and the chaos that could cause."

Ald. Dowell, who moved the vote of confidence, said he believed the aldermen who attended the Wednesday night meeting "will agree with me the commission has been very fair in the actions it has taken and is being very fair in the actions it is taking at the present time in what they and I feel is in the best interests of working arrangements at the arena."

SECONDED MOTION

Ald. Edgelow seconded the motion, saying he had in mind "the interests of the public, the taxpayers, the users and employees of the arena, the Cougars and all transacting business with the arena."

At the last meeting of council, said Ald. McEwen, "we did not seem to want to put the blame on anyone. But I believe the proper person has accepted the blame and is going to move."

He said the work of the commissioners never received any attention "except at a time like this."

WONDERED WHY

Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean wondered why the commission had not reported to council on the situation through council's arena committee.

All he knew about it, he said, he had read in the newspapers, "and I have lived long enough to know that what is in the papers may resemble the true facts and may not."

Criminal Negligence Preliminary

Shouted Warning Too Late Before Brothers Crushed

By PETER BRUTON

A witness in Colwood court yesterday described how his shouted warning came too late to save the lives of two brothers who were crushed to death between a wrecker car and a car on the Sooke Road, Oct. 21.

Gerald J. Van Humbeck, a Sooke logger, was testifying at the preliminary hearing of a criminal negligence charge against William John Stewart, 47, of Kemp Lake Road, Sooke.

Charge was laid against Stewart following the deaths of brothers Jack and Tom Cameron of Colwood.

'THEY GOT HIT'

"I was standing beside the wrecker . . . " said the witness. "I figured he (Stewart) wasn't going to stop so I hollered. Then that was it. They got hit."

During the hearing, which will resume Dec. 6, evidence was given that Stewart was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident, about 1.15 a.m.

The case is being heard by Magistrate A. I. Thomas. Alan Bigelow is prosecuting and James Proudfoot is appearing for the defence.

GOING HOME

Mr. Van Humbeck said he had been going home from a party earlier that night when he had been blinded by the lights of another car on the Sooke Road near Dewdney Flats. His car had gone into a ditch.

About this time Tom Cameron drove by and stopped. The two men went to Glen Lake and Tom Cameron phoned someone. Shortly after they returned to the scene Tom's brother Jack arrived with the wrecker truck from Cameron's Colwood Royalite Service Station operated by the brothers.

CAR DRAGGED

Mr. Van Humbeck said his car was dragged from the ditch and it was suggested the tow truck take his car back to the service station. The two brothers were starting to hitch the car onto the tow truck when Stewart's car bore down on them.

"They were just bending down to tie the car on when they got hit," said the witness.

INTERNAL INJURIES

The Cameron brothers suffered massive internal injuries when crushed between the tow truck and Mr. Van Humbeck's car.

"I went over to Jack," said the witness. "He just looked like death to me and I just put him down. Tommy was trying to sit up so I went over to him. The wrecker was on his feet so I moved the wrecker off."

HEADLIGHTS ON

At the time of the accident, said the witness, the tow truck had its headlights on and the amber flasher light on the cab roof was also on as well as clearance lights. Later, under cross-examination, Mr. Van Humbeck said he couldn't say for sure that the headlights of the wrecker truck were on but he thought so.

He said the Stewart car piled into the front of the wrecker which was on the wrong side of the road.

Stewart had told him that the wrecker did not have flasher lights working.

"I said: 'They sure are. They're still flashing,'" said the witness. "He didn't answer me. I guess I swore at him or something."

"I suggest to you that you put the headlights on," said Mr. Proudfoot.

"No I didn't. I think they were on," he said.

KEEP HIM CALM

Const. Daniel G. Creally, of Colwood RCMP detachment, said that on his arrival he had considerable difficulty with the accused in trying to keep him calm and out of the road. Stewart had smelled strongly of alcohol.

"He admitted being driver of the car . . . " said the witness, adding that Stewart was subsequently charged with impaired driving.

PASSED TRUCK

He said he had obtained a statement at the scene from Stewart who said he saw what he thought to be a tow truck as he rounded a bend 300 feet from the accident. As he was nearing the truck another car approached from the Sooke direction and passed the truck. Stewart stated he attempted to swerve his car around the truck on the extreme right but hit the front.

Robert David McClure, 2674 Sooke Highway, said he was driving home with a friend when he saw the wrecker and another car on the wrong side of the road. He slowed down and as they were passing his friend urged him to stop.

Two men were lying on the road apparently quite badly hurt, he said. The witness went to phone for the police.

Mr McClure said it took police 25 to 30 minutes to get to the scene. He told defence counsel that he assumed Stewart was under the influence of alcohol.

Joseph R. Barnsley, Sooke Road, said he had been a passenger in Mr. McClure's car and as they passed the scene he had noticed the bodies.

"I walked over to the fellow on the outside of the road to see if he was alive. He was dead. I went back to the other. He was moaning. I went up to a house to get a blanket but I couldn't get one. I phoned the police from there," said the witness.

He testified that Stewart had told him: "One fellow is dead and the other's dying. Let's get them to hospital." The accused had also stated that he was in the right. That the truck had been on the wrong side of the road.

EXCITED MAN

Mr. Barnsley said it was clear that Stewart had been drinking but agreed under cross-examination that the actions of the accused were those of an excited man.

Dr. E. L. McNiven testified that he had examined the accused at Colwood detachment headquarters after the accident and reached the conclusion that Stewart's ability to drive a car was impaired by alcohol.

Electrocution

Rubber Boots No Lifesaver

DUNCAN—Not even rubber boots could have saved the life of a 23-year-old volunteer fireman who was electrocuted here Wednesday night when an aluminum ladder touched a 7,300-volt powerline.

A provincial electrical inspector told an inquest jury last night that even the rubber boots worn by linemen will only offer protection against charges up to 2,300 volts.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Alan Campbell, an assistant accountant at the Duncan branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Campbell was electrocuted when he responded with other members of the Duncan fire department to an alarm caused by a chimney fire in a two-storey Chinatown apartment block.

The jury disregarded a suggestion from Coroner Dr. J. S. Goodbrand that they could return a recommendation that firemen should not erect ladders without first adequately lighting the scene.

Evidence indicated that the men erecting the 45-foot aluminum ladder had no idea there was a powerline in its path.

Campbell, a native of Clinton, will be buried Saturday in Vancouver. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. from Simons and McBride funeral chapel.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret H. Agnew, Clinton, and a brother, Colin, in Vancouver.

Robert Lewis, a second fireman hit by the high-voltage charge, is in good condition in hospital here suffering burns and shock.

How Could He Refuse Such 'Official' Garbage

★ ★ ★

Capital Notebook By Peter Bruton

★ ★ ★

STORIES REVISITED DEPT.: A week or so ago we reported how a husband pressed into service by the Solarium Junior League to bring its mobile trailer back from Goldstream one Sunday had inadvertently collected all the provincial parks branch garbage cans on the assumption that they too belonged to the league.

The cans ended up with the trailer at the home of league publicity officer Audrey Paterson. They were still full of refuse left by people who had gone to see the salmon run.

Not long afterwards, it seems, the local garbage man was in the district and Audrey asked him if he would mind emptying the park branch cans which were alongside her own.

Sure, he said, and went over to the cans.

He gave Audrey a conspiratorial glance when he saw the writing on the side of the cans.

"Don't worry, lady," he whispered. "I never saw the name!"

THIN-SKINNED. There was a dilly of a flap in the Northwestern Creamery offices a day or so ago when a milkman brought in a bottle of milk returned by a customer on his route.

The milk was so thin that you could see through it. Skim milk was like cream when compared to it.

A company trouble-shooter rushed to the scene to make apologies but instead wound up on the receiving end.

Red-faced customer had just been informed by his youngster that he had filled the bottle containing an inch of milk with water, had put the cap back on and returned it to the refrigerator.

He could hardly have expected the short, pithy comment from one delegate sitting at the rear of the room who named a commodity found today on fewer and fewer farms!

Nanaimo Kiwanis

Pile of Hides Fast Growing

NANAIMO — Hunters get their deer meat and Kiwanis Club of Nanaimo get the hides.

The club each year salts down all deer hides that are donated and they are sold to a New Westminster firm with all proceeds going to community projects.

Committee chairman Bert Pickard said more than 200 hides were collected this season and he hopes that about 500 more will be donated during the next month.

Collection bins are spread throughout the Greater Nanaimo area and cleared each week for the salting process which the members do themselves.

Model Airplane Show Planned for Duncan

DUNCAN—A display of model airplane flying will be put on by members of the Victoria Model Airplane Club at Duncan Sunday, in hopes of arousing enough interest to form a club here.

It had not been decided last night whether the show would be held on the Cowichan High School grounds or the recreation park.

Work in Sight

More Unemployed In Duncan Area

DUNCAN—Social assistance during October has increased 26 per cent here and applications for unemployment benefits this month went up 15 per cent compared to the same period a year ago.

These figures were released yesterday to the winter works committee.

WORK IN SIGHT

But work appeared to be in sight for a few with the start of construction of schools valued at $350,000.

Mrs. C. M. Lauder, Victoria, supervisor for the social welfare branch, said that during October there were 50 persons receiving social assistance, involving 199 dependents and 28 single men.

In October a year ago social benefits were received by 39 persons with 150 dependents. Of the figure 23 were single men.

"Because of the usual increase during winter it would appear we will have higher numbers unless there are some more work projects," said Mrs. Lauder.

National employment service manager R. S. Robinson said that by the end of last week there were 546 male and 171 female applicants looking for benefits and jobs. The previous week's figures stood at 493 males and 150 females.

NES figures for the same period in 1959 showed there were 465 males and 157 females registered.

NO SENIORITY

Mr. Robinson said that "those affected seem to be in the younger groups with no seniority, but it is not a serious trend yet."

From assurances that money will be available, tenders will be called within six weeks to build a $264,000 junior high school, and two elementary schools costing $43,000 each will be started during the winter, said Trustee Harold Whitfield.

Boat Found

Search Continues Today For Alert Bay Fishermen

ALERT BAY — Search for two Alert Bay fishermen whose battered fishboat was found washed ashore on Cormorant Island at the north end of Vancouver Island Wednesday will continue today.

Missing are Fred Inch and Sonny Huson.

Due to join the search force today is the Canadian government icebreaker Camsell which will employ its helicopter to cover the area.

An RCAF search and rescue aircraft from Sea Island was to have joined the search early yesterday but was forced back to base when it encountered hazardous weather conditions along its route.

A commercial plane chartered by RCMP to aid searchers covered some 50 per cent of the area without finding any trace of the missing men.

The boat bore damage to its wheelhouse indicating that it had been caught in heavy gales which pounded the area earlier this week.

Every Shot Will Help 500 Fund Help the Needy

With every squeeze of the trigger at the Victoria Gun Club annual benefit shoot next month, marksmen will be helping the 500 most needy families who benefit from The Daily Colonist Christmas Fund.

The club is aiming at a target of $500 for the fund.

Marksmen will be shooting for turkeys and hams during the event and each crack of the shotgun will help boost the amount for the needy.

In addition there is always the sporting chance the marksmen will provide meat for their own table at Christmas.

The shoot will be held at the gun club's grounds at Albert Head Dec. 17 and 18.

You don't have to be a Wyatt Earp or Matt Dillon to bring home a prize. Special classes for novices are provided. Non-marksmen who consider themselves lucky to hit the side of a barn will be placed with others in the same bracket.

Cash donations for the fund are continuing to come in at a steady rate.

Donations may be mailed or brought to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund, 2631 Douglas Street or left at the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

Donors are asked to specify whether they want their names published with their donations.

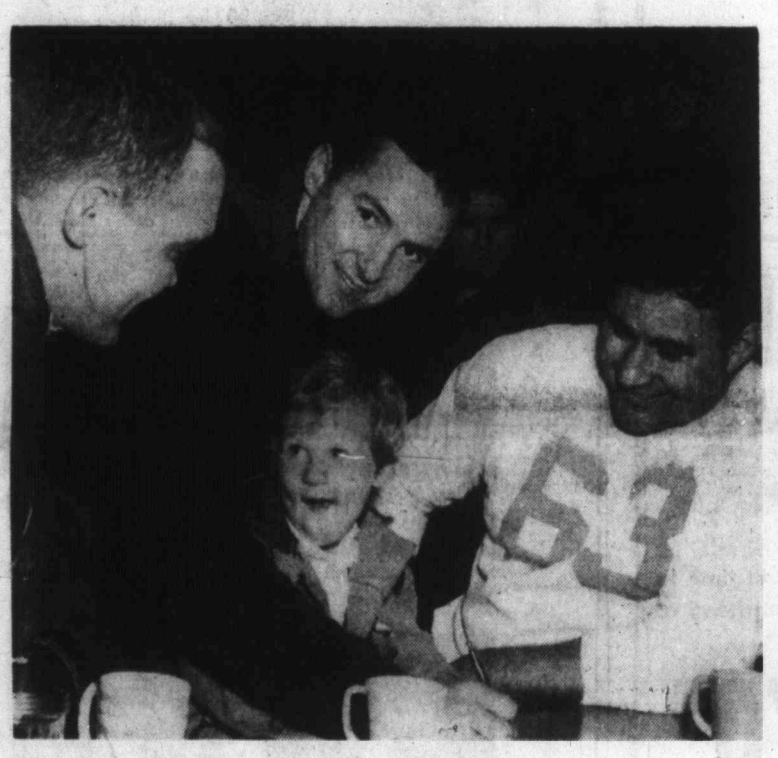
COMMONS PUSHES HOUSING

Baby Boy Born To Kennedys



—(Colonist Photo.)

Football Stars Bow to Beauty

Who could resist a plea from Shelley Blackburn, 4, for an autograph? Certainly not Edmonton Eskimo football team players Toby Deese, Bill Smith and Mike Volcan, who sat down for a coffee after a Brentwood fishing trip. Boats were supplied by Shelley's dad, Bud Blackburn, of Anglers Rentals.

Mother Child Fine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy's wife gave birth early today to a healthy and "beautiful" six-pound, two-ounce boy after a dramatic ambulance dash to Georgetown University Hospital.

Delivery was by caesarean section. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the baby were described as doing fine.

NOT EXPECTED

The baby had not been expected for another three weeks.

Sen. Kennedy was notified by radio of the birth of his first son and second child 15 minutes after he took off from Palm Beach, Fla., to fly to his wife's side.

SENATOR HAPPY

His press secretary said "the senator was happy" about the birth but would make no personal statement until he had a chance to see his wife and child because he was concerned about them.

The baby was born at 12.22 a.m. EST. Mrs. Kennedy arrived at the hospital at 10.55 p.m., and was immediately taken to an operating suite.

Mrs. Gladys Uhl, Jacqueline Kennedy's press secretary, said she had seen the new baby and "he looks beautiful."

WIGGLING A BIT

She said the baby was "wiggling a little bit," and it seemed to have a "little dark hair."

The Kennedys had said in advance they planned to name the child John F. Kennedy Jr. if it were a boy.

A caesarean delivery had been planned for the child. This was the same method of delivering a baby by surgery used for the birth of the Kennedy's first child, Caroline.

WITH HER

With her at the hospital was Dr. John Walsh, who is attached to the staff of the hospital and is one of Washington's leading obstetricians.

As soon as Mrs. Kennedy entered the hospital, Dr. Walsh started delivery preparations.

Mrs. Kennedy was wheeled in through the hospital's emergency room. An intern said, "she was beautiful, even in the throes of labor." A nurse said "she looked lovely."

Parties United On Bill

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons last night unanimously approved in principle the federal government's wide-ranging housing legislation after Public Works Minister David J. Walker predicted that every Canadian family would live in a new house after 22 years of Conservative rule.

The bill aims at reducing unemployment through a big dose of government assistance to stimulate housing construction. It also provides for federal assistance to municipalities in the construction of sewage-disposal plants and loans to universities for student residences.

OFTEN ROWDY

Walker wound up an often rowdy debate on second reading of the housing bill with the claim that history would show "it was the Tory government that gave modern housing to the Canadian people."

The government insisted on a recorded vote on the second reading stage which resulted in a unanimous 155-to-0 roll call.

BOTH SIDES

The debate featured charges and counter-charges of filibustering from both sides of the House, and a call on the government to resign from a Liberal member.

Walker, who called the legislation "one of the greatest pieces of legislation ever introduced in the House of Commons," predicted that "if we're in power for 22 years, every Canadian family will live in a new house."

KILL INCENTIVE

He rejected opposition requests for a reduction in the interest rate on federally-approved housing loans and said such action would kill incentive of lenders. He promised, however, that action to reduce the interest rate would be taken when appropriate.

Paul Hellyer (L—Trinity) said the government had "dramatically exaggerated" the possible effect of the legislation which he described as "a deathbed repentance" of the Conservative government.

J. R. Garland (L—Nipissing), the party's housing critic, scored the plan as "too little, too late" to help substantially in battling winter unemployment.

China 'No. 1 Threat' But Can't Be Ignored

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker yesterday named Red China as the No. 1 threat to world peace and said a "realistic review" of relations with that country was mandatory.

The prime minister also indicated a decision on nuclear weapons for Canadian forces is months, if not years, away. If one had to be made, "we shall not consider nuclear weapons until we have equality in control, a joint control over them."

Canada in the past has steadfastly opposed the seating of Red China in the United Nations. But yesterday Mr. Diefenbaker said:

"So vast and numberless a people cannot be ignored. The world is too interlocked with its common dangers to exclude almost one-quarter of the human race from the areas of major political settlement."

Mr. Diefenbaker, in a general review of Canada's foreign policy, said the declarations of Red China's leaders cast a "frightening shadow of fear" over mankind.

"Their views are frightening and the necessity of realistic review of the situation becomes necessary and mandatory," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker also urged an early heads-of-state meeting of the 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He stressed that arrangements must be made to ensure that the economies of some members would not be weakened by actions of other members.

Legislators of NATO Favor Nuclear Force

PARIS (Reuters)—Legislators from member nations of the Atlantic pact voiced support Thursday for the proposal to arm NATO countries with nuclear weapons.

Some dissent went on record but most speakers at the NATO conference backed the plan as put to them by U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe.

Tire Yourself Out Heart Expert Says

LONDON (Reuters) — Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, Thursday advised a life-long program of vigorous exercise as a preventive measure against heart disease.

He told 700 persons attending a one-day conference here that regular exercise must start before middle age "because it is in the 40s and 50s that so many heart attacks of the type of coronary thrombosis occur.

"I am quite certain that the best antidote for nervous strain, tension and insomnia, is physical fatigue," Dr. White said.

'Put Your Feet Up'

LONDON (Reuters) — Middle-aged persons were advised Thursday that after lunch and dinner to "put your feet up, shut your eyes and smile."

The advice came from a leading British surgeon, who said he did not want reporters to use his name, speaking at a one-day conference on the health of executives.

"Once you reach middle age there is much to be said for taking 40 winks" after meals, and half-days off from work for a hobby such as golf.

China's Atom Claim Worries Khrushchev

LONDON (AP) — Allied diplomats reported Thursday night that Communist China claims it can become a nuclear power soon and even Premier Khrushchev is worried.

They said the boast was made by President Liu Shao-chi of Red China at the Communist summit conference in Moscow.

This claim, coupled with Peking's public demands for a tougher policy by Communists everywhere, has alarmed Khrushchev and other Communist leaders, the diplomats said.

Allied sources believe Khrushchev fears a China so armed might shake off Soviet restraint and embark on ventures that would imperil world peace.

'Battle of Century' Seen To Depose Liberal Chief

OTTAWA (UPI) — Public Works Minister David J. Walker last night said the Liberal party was set for "a tremendous battle of the century" in attempts to depose Lester Pearson from party leadership.

Walker was commenting in the House of Commons on a testimonial dinner in Windsor, Ont., last night honoring prominent Liberal and former cabinet minister Paul Martin for his 25 years in public life.

"Tonight in the city of Windsor," said Walker, "the leadership of the Liberal party is at stake.

"There is a tremendous battle of the century now pending in the Liberal party by those who want to replace the leader of the opposition," he added.

He cited Martin, former Liberal works minister Robert Winters, and former transport minister Lionel Chevrier as prospects to succeed Pearson.

Walker jeered at Chevrier and said, "I think he can arrange a testimonial dinner for himself."

Road Deaths Reach 113

CHICAGO (AP) — At least 113 persons have died in traffic accidents across the United States since the start of the U.S. Thanksgiving Day holiday weekend at 6 p.m. local times Wednesday night.

Indians to Sue B.C. for $100,000

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Kitwanga band of the Skeena River Indian agency plans to sue the provincial government for $100,000 and prosecute Highways Minister Gaglardi for trespassing.

Delegates to the 28th annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia were told that the highways department has no right to build four miles of highway through the eastern section of the Kitwanga reserve.

The band seeks $100,000 in damages and the maximum penalty of a $50-fine and 30 days in jail for Mr. Gaglardi. Indian Commissioner Frank E. Anfield told the meeting that the Indian affairs branch had not given permission for the work but had been offered first $482 in compensation and later $6,000.

Both offers were rejected by the Kitwanga people.

Chief Richard Morgan of the Kitwangas told the convention that Deputy Highways Minister Miard had arranged to meet the band council Dec. 1 for further discussion of the problem.

The convention voted to back the Kitwangas in its fight.
